Russia's New 5-Year Plan Emphasizes Atomic Age And Stronger Military

Production Is Boosted
One and One Half of Pre-War Levels, With Emphasis on Staples

Alter Big Council
Special Prizes Will Spur Relentless Search for Atomic Development

By REMBERT JAMES
Moscow, March 16 (AP)—The new five-year plan for Russia will develop atomic power and boost production to one and one-half times the pre-war level, N. A. Voy-nesensky, head of the Planning Department, has informed the Supreme Soviet.

Speaking at a joint session last night of both houses of the Russian parliament, Voznesensky asserted that "monopolistic capitalism can produce a new aggressor," and declared that the Soviet Union would maintain and strengthen its military forces during the five-year period from 1946 to 1950.

The Houses, by a rising vote, agreed to drop the title of "Com-missar" and substitute that of "Minister" for its highest government leaders, and to change the name of the Council of Peoples' Commissars to Council of Ministers.

Generalissimo Stalin thus becomes Chairman of the Council of Ministers, instead of Chairman of the Council of Commissars. In this capacity he continues as Premier and head of the government.
The reason for the change in titles was not made clear. Stalin had been Chairman of the Council of Commissars since May 22, 1941. The title "Commissar" had been used for more than a quarter-century by the Soviets.

Prizes For Atomic
In his outline of the new five-year plan, Voznesensky said prizes would be awarded to scientists to stimulate research on such projects as the development of atomic power.

In addition, the Soviet will expand its technical schools to accommodate 1,200,000 students and will increase its expenditures for education and culture to the equivalent of about $13,333,000, or about two and one-quarter times the pre-war total, he continued.

The chief planning official said capitalism was contrary to technological progress, and that capitalistic countries were confronted with the economic crisis.

American production has dropped two-thirds since the war peak, he asserted, and unemployment is on the increase there.
British trade has been disrupted and its markets captured by the United States, he added.

Other Phases
Other phases of the five-year plan, as outlined by Voznesensky:
Rationing of bread, flour and other foodstuffs will end this year. There will be no more butter, sugar and shoes in the immediate future.

Heavy industry will be doubled by 1950 and automobile production will be tripled to quadrupled.
The annual production by 1950 of iron will be 19,000,000 tons; of steel 25,000,000 tons; coal 250,000, 000; oil 35,000,000 tons; electricity
85,000,000 kilowatt hours.

The equivalent of about $3,333,
000,000 will be earmarked for railroad improvements, and about $3,500,000,000 for new housing.

The Soviet national income will be boosted to about $14,750,000, 000 by 1950.

Daylight Robber
Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—An armed robber held 21 persons at bay while he rifled $1,800 from a cash register at a supper market last night. Holding a gun in his right hand, he tried to stuff the money into his right pocket.

Some of the money slipped to the floor and as the bandit leaned over to pick it up Butcher Louis Quat-rone, 38, hurried a boning knife.
It stuck in a cardboard container several feet from the man.

Red Cross Drive
Total Now $20,000

The Red Cross drive in Ulster County has resulted in total reported contributions to date of $20,000, Mrs. Frances Craig, secretary for the fund campaign, said this morning.

The second town to go over the top is the town of Hurley, which has turned in $456 on a quota of $450. Mrs. Roger H. Loughran is chairman of the drive in the town of Hurley. The town of Rosendale was the first to exceed its quota.

In Kingston the Fourth Ward becomes the second ward to exceed its quota, with contributions of $535, the quota being $500. Mrs.
Alva S. Staples is chairman for the ward.

Steuding Requests $100,000 For Street Repair This Year

Congressmen Balk
At Extending OPA
Over Nine Months

Republicans and Southern Democrats Form Hostile Group to Extending Life of Agency

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The Capitol Hill fight on O.P.A. widened today with a drive to put a nine-month limit on any new lease on life for the agency, instead of the year's extension asked by President Truman.

House opponents added this new objective to their previously announced goal of seeking sharp curtailment of O.P.A.'s existing powers if the agency is continued.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), speaking for the Republican-Southern Democrats alignment that recently rewrote the Administration housing legislation, announced to reporters he would seek these amendments to the bill continuing O.P.A. and subsidies:

1. The Price Control and Stabilization Acts should be continued for a period not later than April 1, 1947.

2. No maximum price to be set on any commodity that does not give its producer a reasonable profit.

3. Automatic liquidation of O.P.A. controls. Industry advisory committees would be authorized to certify to O.P.A. when the production of a particular commodity reaches a certain percentage of normal demand—the percentage yet to be determined. Upon such certification, the price controls are removed.

Gradual Price Hike
4. Gradual removal of subsidies on all commodities and proportionate increases of the prices upon such commodities.

5. Continued control of rents but with a clarification of the legislative intent "resulting in a realistic defining of a person's right to relief in hardship cases."

The battle against administration efforts to have O.P.A. continued without amendments continued sharply with the smooth sailing the House yesterday gave a bill extending government rationing powers until March 31, 1947.

A bill continuing the second War Powers Act was passed without even a record vote, and tossed over to the Senate.

Too Much on Mind
Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)— Last-minute taxpayers rushed into offices of internal revenue collectors yesterday and, still preoccupled with income tax forms, departed leaving behind articles ranging from a pound of butter to a new Easter hat. Both items were reclaimed. The hat after its owner gave a colorful description and produced a sales check.

Estimates $619,000 for Full Reconstruction Job on Roads in Kingston

A street reconstruction program at an estimated cost of $619,000, covering the streets in Kingston which should have "top priority," was filed with the Board of Public Works at its monthly meeting Friday afternoon by Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding.

Superintendent Steuding in his report stated it was realized that all of the streets listed could not be reconstructed this year. "However," he said, "a substantial number of these streets can be completed by this fall."

He requested that the board make the necessary arrangements to appropriate $100,000 to be used in reconstruction of as many streets as the coming construction season and facilities permit.

Take Five Years Says Mayor
Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, who presided at the meeting, said that the reconstruction of all of the streets set up in the superintendent's report, would take about five years.

The mayor informed the board that it was expected that the Common Council would hold a special meeting next week to take action on the ordinance authorizing a $95,000 bond issue for street construction work this year.

The ordinance failed adoption
Tuesday evening when the necessary two-thirds vote of the council was not recorded in favor of the measure.

The Program
Superintendent Steuding's reconstruction program follows:
City Hall

During the past month, an inspection has been made by the office of the streets of the City of Kingston, with the idea of determining the streets which should have top priority for reconstruction.
The streets selected as needing to be reconstructed are as indicated below. The total cost as specified in the right column was children immunized against the disease.

Dr. Larkin said that another of the series of clinics for the prevention of diphtheria, and vaccination against smallpox will be held in the health center at 25 East O'Reilly street on Monday after-

Two awards were made at the monthly meeting of Kingston Post 150, American Legion in the memorial building on West O'Reilly ceived the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in the European Theatre of Action during World War 2, and Police Sergeant Wil-past commander's diamond studded pin for his accomplishments as co-chairman of last November's Victory Ball.

Captain Presents Award
Private Nichols is shown receiving his Purple Heart from Capt. Harry W. Smith, local army recruiting officer, in the presence of Legion Commander Samuel Peyer, on left, and First Sergeant
Lee M. Venable. He was wounded
April 26, 1945 near the Elbe river in Germany, while serving with the 45th Infantry. This unit received the Presidential citation.

The Kingston boy entered service August 4, 1941, and was discharged August 3, 1945. He wears the European campaign ribbon,
Good Conduct medal, and Purple Heart. Private Nichols was only in battle five days before he was wounded. He returned to the States, June 12, 1945.

Aside from making the award,
Captain Smith gave the Legion-

20 Families File Housing Forms in Office of Mayor

City Residents Take Part in Survey Through Questionnaire in Daily Freeman

Twenty families have filled out the housing questionnaire that is appearing nightly in The Freeman, and mailed them to the mayor's office at the city hall. All of the 20 questionnaires were received in Friday's mail, the mayor's office reported.

This questionnaire is appearing in The Freeman at the request of the housing survey committee, who were appointed earlier in the year by Mayor W. F. Edelmuth.

It is planned to have all replies to the questionnaire in the harbor of the committee by March when the information will be compiled, ready to submit to a representative of the State Housing Commission.

This information is sought to ascertain how serious the housing shortage is, and plan what steps can be taken to allocate the condition.

War's Over, They Say
This condition, the communication stated, had been brought to the board's attention some time ago, and the property owners had been promised relief when the war ended. "The war is now over," wrote the property owners, and they asked that the board take action to alleviate conditions.

The communication was referred to City Engineer Arthur F.
Hallman.

Will Sweep Streets
Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding reported that the work of sweeping the streets of the city would be started next week, and the work would continue through the 24 hours of the day until all of the streets were swept.

The superintendent urged that all motorists keep their cars off the streets in the business districts at least until the evening so that the work could proceed uninterrupted.

Concession Bids
The board decided that bids for the concessions in Hasbrouck and Forsyth Parks, and the Municipal Stadium, should be filed at the board's office in the city hall not later than April 8, as the board planned to award the concessions at the April meeting.

Resignations Filed
Harry L. Edson, who has been serving as acting superintendent of recreation during the war years, filed his resignation with the board. The resignation is effective March 31.

Mr. Edson has been carrying on the work of supervising the city's recreation department while Superintendent Sidney Lutzn was in military service.

Lutzn Back
Mr. Lutzn, who has received his honorable discharge from the army, plans to resume his duties
this month.

The board directed that a letter of appreciation of the work accomplished by Mr. Edson be sent him.

John Carpio, a motor equipment operator with the street department, filed his resignation, which was accepted.

be sent the alderman explaining the situation, and that the street light requested would be installed as soon as fixtures were available.

Indonesian Deadlock
Batavia, March 16 (AP)—Negotiations on Indonesian independence demands were reported stalled today over the issue of who should control the armed forces and defense of the East Indies. Unofficial sources said the Indonesians were willing to let the Dutch handle foreign affairs and finance in the interim period between commonwealth status and independence, but refused to relinquish control of the armed forces as demanded by the Dutch.

ber by a military coup and is reported living in exile in New York.

The revolutionary junta which took over the Venezuelan government in October, 1945, accused him of misappropriating public funds.

For Saugerties Plant

The General Electric plant is ties. The lease for the building, used during the past war by R.C.A., was signed today.

The building is owned by Knaust Brothers, growers of mushrooms, and during the war employed a large number of people in the manufacture of radio equipment for the armed forces.

The General Electric plant

B.P.W. Deals With Flooded Cellars, Park Concessions

Elizabeth Street Home Owners Ask Relief From Damage
by Water

Flooded cellars on Elizabeth street, the work of sweeping the city's streets, and a request that bids for the park concessions this summer be filed, were some of the matters taken up at the monthly meeting of the Board of Public Works on Friday afternoon.

The flood conditions reported to prevail on Elizabeth street were brought to the board's attention by the filing of a communication signed by ten householders on that street, in which they said that with the spring thaw at hand cellars of the houses were filled with water;
sidewalks were sinking, and cellar floors bulging.

Churchill Calls on U.N.O. Council to Work Out Iran Crisis, Dardanelles Case

Young Republican Club Will Be Organized Here

Movement to Increase Interest of the Younger Voters in Policies of the G.O.P.

The supervisors room at the court house was filled to capacity Friday night for the meeting called to further the organization of a Young Republican Club in the city of Kingston.

The meeting had been called by Miss Betty Hoefle, organizing secretary, Frederick H. Stang, assistant county chairman of the Republican county central committee and Vincent G. Connelly, Kingston city chairman.

Mr. Stang called the gathering to order and presided during the evening as temporary chairman.
He said that the meeting had been called in the interests of the Republican party and to further an organization which had but one purpose—to win the election this coming Fall. Saying that this was a gubernatorial year, Mr. Stang declared that it was understood that Governor Thomas E. Dewey would be the candidate, to succeed himself, that he would run on the record he had made as governor and that there would be no necessity for apologies for that record.

Although the plan was to organize a Young Republican Club, and it was hoped that the majority of the members would be in the 21 to 39 years age range, Mr.
Stang said that any person, man or woman, in the city who was interested in the Republican party and believed in its principles would be welcomed into membership in the club. With the whole-hearted support of the Republicans in the city of Kingston we can win the election, it was declared.

Vincent G. Connelly, city chairman, was introduced as speaker briefly. Mr. Connelly heartily endorsed the movement to increase the interest of the younger voters in the policies and activities of the Republican Party. At the same time he emphasized the importance of the committee as the focal point, or basis of successful party work. What was needed he said was greater cooperation on the part of all, both young and old—that all should work together in order to achieve success.

Mr. Stang then introduced Miss Betty Hoefle, a young lady from Philadelphia, who had been a stalwart Republicanism of the state of Pennsylvania and the prime mover in the present attempt to organize a Young Republican Club, who recently had come to Kingston.

Commander Kennedy will speak on Legion affairs and will bring a message of importance to Legion members.

Offer Soviet Complete Freedom
Churchill made the first public disclosure that America and Great Britain had offered Russia at the Potsdam conference "a joint guarantee of the complete freedom of the (Dardanelles) Straits in peace and war, whether for merchant ships or ships of war."

"To this guarantee Turkey would gladly have subscribed," he continued, "but we were told that that was not enough. Russia must have a fortress inside the straits from which she could dominate Constantinople."

"But this is not to keep the straits open but to give power of closing them to a single nation.
This is out of harmony with the principle urged by the United States representatives of the freedom of the great waterways of Europe, the Danube, the Rhine, and other rivers which run through so many different countries."

Up to U.N.O. Council
"At any rate, there was the offer, and I have no doubt it is still open, and if Soviet Russia still persists in putting pressure on Turkey, the matter must be in the first instance be pronounced upon the United Nations Security Council."

"Thus early will come a very great test for the world organization on which so many, indeed I might say, all, our hopes are founded."

Churchill's speech climaxed a public reception that included a 10-mile trip through the city in an open motorcade, a driving rain, and an official welcome by Mayor William O'Dwyer at City Hall, where he received the city's gold medal and distinguished service certificate.

most of his journey but there were occasional boos and there were organized demonstrations against him both at City Hall and outside the Waldorf-Astoria where he ence of 2,000 persons, including many foreign diplomats.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian ambassador, who arrived from Montreal a few hours before the dinner, did not attend although he had been invited.

Russia's New 5-Year Plan Emphasizes Atomic Age And Stronger Military

Production Is Boosted One and One Half of Pre-War Levels, With Emphasis on Staples Alter Big Council Special Prizes Will Spur Relentless Search for Atomic Development

By REMBERT JAMES
Moscow, March 16 (AP)—The new five-year plan for Russia will develop atomic power and boost production to one and one-half times the pre-war level. N. A. Voznesensky, head of the Planning Department, has informed the Supreme Soviet.

Speaking at a joint session last night of both houses of the Russian parliament, Voznesensky asserted that "monopolistic capitalism can produce a new aggression" and declared that the Soviet Union would maintain and strengthen its military forces during the five-year period from 1946 to 1950.

The Houses, by a rising vote, agreed to drop the title of "Commissar" and substitute that of "Minister" for its highest government leaders, and to change the name of the Council of Peoples' Commissars to Council of Ministers.

Generalissimo Stalin thus becomes Chairman of the Council of Ministers, instead of Chairman of the Council of Commissars. In this capacity he continues as Premier and head of the government.

The reason for the change in titles was not made clear. Stalin had been Chairman of the Council of Commissars since May 22, 1941. The title "Commissar" had been used for more than a quarter-century by the Soviets.

Prizes For Atomic
In his outline of the new five-year plan, Voznesensky said prizes would be awarded to scientists to stimulate research on such projects as the development of atomic power.

In addition, the Soviet will expand its technical schools to accommodate 1,200,000 students and will increase its expenditures for education and culture to the equivalent of about $13,333,000, or about two and one-quarter times the pre-war total, he continued.

The chief planning official said capitalism was contrary to technological progress, and that capitalist countries were confronted with the economic crisis.

American production has dropped two-thirds since the war peak, he asserted, and unemployment is on the increase there. British trade has been disrupted and its markets captured by the United States, he added.

Other Phases
Other phases of the five-year plan, as outlined by Voznesensky: Rationing of bread, flour and meat will end this year. There will be more butter, sugar and shoes in the immediate future.

Heavy industry will be doubled by 1950 and automobile production will be tripled to quadrupled. The annual production of 1950 of iron will be 19,000,000 tons; of steel 25,000,000 tons; coal 250,000,000; oil 35,000,000 tons; electricity 50,000,000,000 kilowatt hours.

The equivalent of about $3,333,000,000 will be earmarked for railroad improvements, and about $3,500,000,000 to finance 72,000,000 square meters of new housing.

The Soviet national income will be boosted to about $14,750,000,000 by 1950.

Daylight Robber
Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—An armed robber held 21 persons at bay while he rifled $1,800 from a cash register at a super market last night. Holding a gun in his right hand, he tried to stuff the money into his right pocket.

Some of the money slipped to the floor and as the bandit leaned over to pick it up, a Butcher Louis Quattrone, 38, buried a bone knife. It stuck in a cardboard container several feet from the man.

Red Cross Drive
Total Now $20,000
The Red Cross drive in Ulster County has resulted in total reported contributions to date of $20,000. Mrs. Frances Craig, secretary for the fund campaign, said this morning.

The second town to go over the top is the town of Hurley, which has turned in $456 on a quota of $450. Mrs. Roger H. Loughran is chairman of the drive in the town of Hurley. The town of Rosendale was the first to exceed its quota.

In Kingston the Fourth Ward becomes the second ward to exceed its quota, with contributions of $453, the quota being $500. Mrs. Anna S. Staples is chairman for the ward.

Steuering Requests $100,000 For Street Repair This Year

Congressmen Balk At Extending OPA Over Nine Months
Republicans and Southern Democrats Form Hostile Group to Extending Life of Agency

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The Capitol Hill fight on O.P.A. widened today with a drive to put a nine-month limit on any new lease on life for the agency, instead of the year's extension asked by President Truman.

House opponents added this new objective to their previously announced goal of seeking sharp curtailment of O.P.A.'s existing powers if the agency is continued.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), speaker of the House, said that he would support the Administration's request for a year's extension, but only if the agency is reauthorized for a period not later than April 1, 1947.

1. The Price Control and Stabilization Act should be continued for a period not later than April 1, 1947.

2. No maximum price to be set on any commodity that does not give its producer a reasonable profit.

3. Automatic liquidation of O.P.A. controls. Industry advisory committees would be authorized to certify to O.P.A. when the production of a particular commodity reaches a certain percentage of normal demand—the percentage yet to be determined. Upon such certification, the price controls be removed.

4. Gradual removal of subsidies on all commodities and proportionate increases of the prices upon such commodities.

5. Continued control of rents but with a clarification of the legislative intent "resulting in a realistic defining of a person's right to relief in hardship cases."

The battle against administration efforts to have O.P.A. continued without amendments contrasted sharply with the smooth sailing the House yesterday gave a bill extending government rationing, priority and allocation powers until March 31, 1947.

A bill continuing the second War Powers Act was passed without even a record vote, and tossed over to the Senate.

Too Much on Mind
Philadelphia, March 16 (AP)—Last-minute taxpayers rushed into offices of internal revenue collectors yesterday and still proceeded with income tax forms, departed leaving behind articles ranging from a pound of butter to a new Easter hat. Both items were reclaimed. The hat after its owner gave a colorful description and produced a sales check.

Estimates $619,000 for Full Reconstruction Job on Roads in Kingston

A street reconstruction program at an estimated cost of $619,000, covering the streets in Kingston which should have "top priority" was filed with the Board of Public Works at its monthly meeting Friday afternoon by Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding.

This information is sought to ascertain how serious the housing shortage is, and plan what steps can be taken to allocate the condition.

Superintendent Steuding in his report stated it was realized that all of the streets listed could not be reconstructed this year. "However," he said, "a substantial number of these streets can be completed by this fall."

He requested that the board make the necessary arrangements to appropriate $100,000 to be used in reconstruction of as many streets as the coming construction season and facilities permit.

Take Five Years Says Mayor
Mayor W. F. Edelmuht, who presided at the meeting, said that the reconstruction of all of the streets set up in the superintendent's report, would take about five years.

The mayor informed the board that it was expected that the Common Council would hold a special meeting next week to take action on the ordinance authorizing a $85,000 bond issue for street construction work this year.

The ordinance failed adoption Tuesday evening when the necessary two-thirds vote of the council was not recorded in favor of the measure.

20 Families File Housing Forms in Office of Mayor

City Residents Take Part in Survey Through Questionnaire in Daily Freeman

Twenty families have filled out the housing questionnaire that is appearing nightly in The Freeman, and mailed them to the mayor's office at the city hall. All of the 20 questionnaires were received in Friday's mail, the mayor's office reported.

This questionnaire is appearing in The Freeman at the request of the housing survey committee, who were appointed earlier in the year by Mayor W. F. Edelmuht.

It is planned to have all replies to the questionnaire in the hands of the committee by March 20 when the information will be compiled, ready to submit to a representative of the State Housing Commission.

This information is sought to ascertain how serious the housing shortage is, and plan what steps can be taken to allocate the condition.

Shocks Still Felt In Pacific Quake

Tremors Are Reported in Mojave Desert 150 Miles From Scene

Los Angeles, March 16 (AP)—The earth continued to twitch today, but workmen sped repairs to the Los Angeles Aqueduct, caved in by a massive boulder dislodged in Southern California's most severe earthquake since 1933.

Settling shocks were felt on the Mojave Desert some 150 miles north of here, where occurred the only damage from a tremor scientists said was comparable to the Long Beach disaster 13 years ago this month, or the equally severe Santa Barbara quake in 1925.

One boulder tore a nine-foot hole in the concrete pipeline yesterday, spouting water across the desert at a rate of 100,000 gallons a minute before it could be shut off at an intake still farther north.

The first tremor was felt at 5:21 a. m. (P.S.T.), followed by the major quake at 5:50 a. m. Still successors followed at 11:20 a. m., 1:25 and 2:05 p. m., with adjustments at frequent intervals.

Of Great Interest
From a scientific standpoint, the quake was of high interest since it apparently marked activity on the Kern River fault, dormant since 1838.

B.P.W. Deals With Flooded Cellars, Park Concessions

Elizabeth Street Home Owners Ask Relief From Damage by Water

Flooded cellars on Elizabeth street, the work of sweeping the city's streets, and a request that bids for the park concessions this summer be filed, were some of the matters taken up at the monthly meeting of the Board of Public Works on Friday afternoon.

The flood conditions reported to prevail on Elizabeth street was brought to the board's attention by the filing of a communication signed by ten householders on that street, in which they said that with the spring thaw at hand cellars of the houses were filled with water; sidewalks were sinking, and cellar floors bulging.

War's Over, They Say
This condition, the communication stated, had been brought to the board's attention some time ago, and the property owners had been promised relief when the war ended. "The war is now over," wrote the property owners, and they asked that the board take action to alleviate conditions.

The communication was referred to City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan.

Will Sweep Streets
Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding reported that the work of sweeping the streets of the city would be started next week, and the work would continue through the 24 hours of the day until all of the streets were swept.

The superintendent urged that all motorists keep their cars off the streets in the business districts after 11 p. m. each evening so that the work could proceed uninterrupted.

Concession Bids
The board decided that bids for the concessions in Hasbrouck and Forsyth Parks, and the Municipal Stadium, should be filed at the board's office in the city hall not later than April 8, as the board planned to award the concessions at the April meeting.

Resignations Filed
Harry L. Edson, who has been serving as acting superintendent of recreation during the war years, filed his resignation with the board. The resignation is effective March 31.

Edson has been supervising the work of supervising the city's recreation department while Superintendent Sidney Lutzn was in military service.

Lutzn Back
Mr. Lutzn, who has received his honorable discharge from the army, plans to resume his duties this month.

The board directed that a letter of appreciation of the work accomplished by Mr. Edson be sent him.

No New Street Lights
Commissioner Charles O. Davis of the lighting committee reported he had taken up with the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., the installing of a street light on Pettit avenue, as requested by Alderman Eugene Cornell, and the electric company had informed him that no new lighting fixtures would be available for six or eight months.

The board directed that a letter be sent the alderman explaining the situation, and that the street light requested would be installed as soon as fixtures were available.

Indonesian Deadlock

Batavia, March 16 (AP)—Negotiations on Indonesian independence demands were reported stalled today over the issue of who should control the armed forces and defense of the East Indies. Unofficial sources said the Indonesians were willing to let the Dutch handle foreign affairs and finance in the interim period between commonwealth status and independence, but refused to relinquish control of the armed forces as demanded by the Dutch.

To Judge Exile
Caracas, Venezuela, March 16 (AP)—The Tribunal of civil and administrative responsibility is slated to pass sentence today on Ismael Medina Angarita, former president, who was ousted last October by a military coup and is reported living in exile in New York.

The revolutionary junta which took over the Venezuelan government in October, 1945, accused him of misappropriating public funds.

G.E. Signs Lease For Saugerties Plant
The General Electric plant is definitely assured to Saugerties. The lease for the building, used during the past war by R.C.A., was signed today.

The building is owned by Knott Brothers, growers of mushrooms, and during the war employed a large number of people in the manufacture of radio equipment for the armed forces.

The General Electric plant now in Bridgeport, Conn., will operate the Saugerties plant.

Churchill Calls on U.N.O. Council to Work Out Iran Crisis, Dardanelles Case

Young Republican Club Will Be Organized Here
Movement to Increase Interest of the Younger Voters in Policies of the G.O.P.

The supervisors room at the court house was filled to capacity Friday night for the meeting called to further the organization of a Young Republican Club in the city of Kingston.

The meeting had been called by Miss Betty Hoelle, organizing secretary, Frederick H. Stang, assistant county chairman of the Republican county central committee and Vincent G. Connelly, Kingston city chairman.

Mr. Stang called the gathering to order and presided during the evening as temporary chairman. He said that the meeting had been called in the interests of the Republican party and to further an organization which had but one purpose—to win the election this coming Fall. Saying that this was a gubernatorial year, Mr. Stang declared that it was understood that Governor Thomas E. Dewey would be the candidate, to succeed himself, that he would run on the record he had made as governor, and that there would be no necessity for apologies for that record.

Although the plan was to organize a Young Republican Club, and it was hoped that the majority of the members would be in the 21 to 39 years age range, Mr. Stang said that any person, man or woman, in the city who was interested in the Republican party and believed in its principles would be welcomed into membership in the club. With the wholehearted support of the Republicans in the city of Kingston we can win the election, it was declared.

Vincent G. Connelly, city chairman, was introduced and spoke briefly. Mr. Connelly heartily endorsed the movement to increase the interest of the younger voters in the policies and activities of the Republican Party. At the same time he emphasized the importance of the committeemen as the local point, or basis of successful party work. What was needed he said was greater cooperation on the part of all, both young and old—that all should work together in order to achieve success.

Mr. Stang then introduced Miss Betty Hoelle, "a young lady from Philadelphia, steeped in the stalwart Republicanism of the state of Pennsylvania and the prime mover in the present attempt to organize a Young Republican Club, who recently had come to Kingston."

Reviews History
Miss Hoelle, who came to Kingston the first part of November, after having spent three and a half years as a war worker, a draftsman in the Frankfort Arsenal in Philadelphia, took more than usual interest in the election last fall, being a first voter. She had been surprised at the outcome of the election in Kingston when, after studying the enrollment she discovered that the Republicans were in the majority.

After consulting with members of the Republican organization and securing their approval she visited headquarters of the Young Republican organization in New York, and obtained their approval of a plan to organize a club in Kingston and had been actively engaged in the work for about a month.

Ex-Prime Minister Tells in Speech of Offer to Reds on Dardanelles

By NATHAN POLOWETZKY
New York, March 16 (AP)—Winston Churchill called upon the Soviet Union last night to insure continuance of war-born sympathy of the English-speaking world for the Russian people by submitting its international problems to the United Nations Security Council.

"If the Soviet government does not take advantage of this (Anglo-American) sentiment," he said, "if, on the contrary, they discourage it, or they chill it, the responsibility will be entirely theirs."

The doughty wartime leader of Great Britain said Russia's failure to evacuate Iran should be thrashed out in the council's forthcoming New York meeting, and he warned that an early and great test for the U.N.O. would come from Russian pressure against Turkey over the Dardanelles.

(Washington sources said last night that Iran already had informed the United States that it would ask the U.N.O. to reopen the Iran-Russian situation at the Security Council meeting which opens here March 25.)

Offer Soviet Complete Freedom
Churchill made the first public disclosure that America and Great Britain had offered Russia at the Potsdam conference "a joint guarantee of the complete freedom of the (Dardanelles) Straits in peace and war, whether for merchant ships or ships of war."

"To this guarantee Turkey would gladly have subscribed," he continued, "but we were told that that was not enough. Russia must have a fortress inside the straits from which she could dominate Constantinople."

"But, this is not to keep the straits open but to give power of closing them to a single nation. This is out of harmony with the principle urged by the United States representatives of the freedom of the great waterways of Europe, the Danube, the Rhine, and other rivers which runs through so many different countries."

Up to U.N.O. Council
"At any rate, there was the offer, and I have no doubt it is still open, and if Soviet Russia still persists in putting pressure on Turkey, the matter must be in the first instance be pronounced upon the United Nations Security Council."

"Thus early will come a very great test for the world organization on which so many, indeed I might say, all, our hopes are founded."

Churchill's speech climaxed a public reception that included a 10-mile trip through the city in an open car during a drizzling rain, and an official welcome by Mayor William O'Dwyer at City Hall, where he received the city's gold medal and distinguished service certificate.

early history and the moving principles of the Republican party and then discussed the necessity, as she sees it, for more active participation and interest on the part of the younger voters and particularly on the part of the homecoming veterans of the war. She emphasized the fact that within the near future, the responsibilities of government must fall upon their shoulders and felt that they should be preparing to meet those responsibilities. The older people are needed for guidance and because of the wisdom they have acquired through experience, but they must have the active cooperation of those of younger years, was the thought.

Senator Wicks Speaks

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, county chairman, addressed the meeting. He endorsed the idea of an active organization and the enlisting of the aid and support of the younger voters. "We should build from the ground up," he said, "and there is no better place to start than with the young people. He agreed with City Chairman Connelly that the committee members were the basis and prop of party activity and filled a vital place in the work, but that for success the active assistance and cooperation of the younger people was needed.

We are going to have an interesting campaign next fall, said the Senator, adding that "I don't believe there is any question about the result." We are going to elect a United States Senator this fall, he declared, along with all the county officers who will be up for election.

The Senator said that the voters would have an opportunity to vote for one of Ulster county's most illustrious sons—Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the Court of Appeals—next fall. "I don't know whether the Democrats will nominate him, but we will," he said.

Before adjourning the meeting the chairman named two committees to further the work of organization of the club, toward C. Shurtler, Sheriff Kaiser Vincent G. Connelly and Louis Bruhn were named as a committee on nomination of officers. Miss Betty Hoefle, Vincent G. Connelly, Frederick H. Stang and Miss Florence Dumond, committee on constitution and by-laws.

The committees will report at a meeting to be called in the near future.

That the Kingston-Rhinebeck ferry will materialize within a short time was indicated last night when Senator Wicks told the gathering that he hoped to have Governor Thomas E. Dewey inaugurate the ferry service on the day that ferry service is inaugurated—which would be about April 1.

Young Republican Club to Organize

early history and the moving principles of the Republican party and then discussed the necessity, as she sees it, for more active participation and interest on the part of the younger voters and particularly on the part of the homecoming veterans of the war. She emphasized the fact that within the near future, the responsibilities of government must fall upon their shoulders and that they should be prepared to meet those responsibilities. The older people are needed for guidance and because of the wisdom they have acquired through experience, but they must have the active cooperation of those of younger years, was the thought.

Senator Wicks Speaks

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, county chairman, addressed the meeting. He endorsed the idea of an active organization and the enlisting of the aid and support of the younger voters. We should build from the ground up, he said, and there is no better place to start than with the young people. He agreed with City Chairman Connelly that the committee was the basis and prop of party activity and filled a vital place in the work, but that for success the active assistance and cooperation of the younger people was needed. We are going to have an interesting campaign next fall, said the Senator, adding that "I don't believe there is any question about the result." We are going to elect a United States Senator this fall, he declared, along with all the county officers who will be up for election.

The senator said that the voters would have an opportunity to vote for one of Ulster county's most illustrious sons—Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the Court of Appeals—next fall. "I don't know whether the Democrats will nominate him, but we will," he said. Before adjourning the meeting the chairman named two committees to further the work of organization of the club. Howard C. Shurtler, Sheriff Kaiser, Vincent G. Connelly and Louis Bruhn were named as a committee on nomination of officers. Miss Betty Hoeft, Vincent G. Connelly, Frederick H. Stang and Miss Florence Dumond, committee on constitution and by-laws.

The committees will report at a meeting to be called in the near future. That the Kingston-Rhinebeck ferry will materialize within a short time was indicated last night when Senator Wicks told the gathering that he hoped to have Governor Thomas E. Dewey in Kingston on the day that ferry service is inaugurated—which would be about April 1.

GRANGE NEWS

The regular bi-monthly meeting of Ulster Grange 969 will be held on Wednesday evening, March 20, promptly at 8 o'clock in the Community Hall, Ulster Park, New York.

Mr. Ralph Johnson, district superintendent of schools, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Centralized versus Consolidated Schools." A question and answer period will follow. This discussion should be of interest to all Grange members and a large attendance is expected. Refreshments will be served by the committee in charge.

The arrival of the Shanks will bring to more than 1400 the number of Army dependents who have been re-united with husbands and fathers at Pacific bases since the War Department opened former theatres of war to them last December 29.

Berlin, March 16 (AP)—Three explosions of ammunition today shattered the Alexander Kaserne building in midtown Berlin, occupied as a headquarters of Russian military and German civilian police, causing more than 300 casualties. At least one person, a German policeman, was known to have been killed, and authorities said there probably were more fatalities. A police hospital reported that 100 of the casualties were seriously injured.

Political Casualty

Tehran, March 16 (AP)—The newspaper Neyrav Melli said today that Gholam Yahya, Deputy Minister of War in the self-proclaimed autonomous government of Russian-occupied Iranian Azerbaijan province, died at Tabriz of gunshot wounds received during a political argument at Zanja.

St. Patrick's Entertainment

The annual St. Patrick's entertainment at the school hall was very large and well attended. A highlight of the entertainment program was a tabloid by the seventh-grade pupils. Spoken above are Paul Culpak, Joe Qualtere. St. Mary's choir sang old and current popular songs.

Trieste, March 16 (AP)—Mail from Trieste, 43, a member of the Yugoslav War Booty Commission and third-ranking Yugoslav officer in Trieste, was gravely wounded last night by an unknown assassin who shot him in the abdomen and jaw as he emerged from a waterfront restaurant. Civil and military patrols immediately were increased in this tense, disputed city, where a four-power Allied Commission now is investigating boundary questions.

The arrival of the ferryboat Monclair of the Lackawanna railroad, at the Hudson River Day Line pier at Kingston Point, Friday evening, caused many rumors to be circulated that the new ferry to be used on the Kingston-Rhinecliff route was here. ## Cardinal Glennon Funeral Largely Attended Today

St. Louis, March 16 (AP)—Thousands of persons of many faiths, including most of America's ranking Catholic churchmen, paid final tribute today to John Cardinal Glennon, distinguished leader of the St. Louis Archdiocese who became a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church shortly before his death in Dublin last week.

Here to serve as celebrant at Pontifical Requiem Mass at 10 a. m. C.S.T. in the Great St. Louis Cathedral was Archbishop Amleto Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States at Washington. Bishop Christopher Byrne of Galveston, Texas, former St. Louisian and lifelong friend of Cardinal Glennon, was to preach the funeral sermon.

Heading the list of church dignitaries here for the services were Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago, Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit. Thrones were set up for them on the east side of the cathedral sanctuary.

The 53-year-old prelate, who served more than half his life as Archbishop of St. Louis, had chosen his own final resting place—a crypt in All Souls Chapel of the magnificent cathedral which he built.

HOUSING SURVEY

In conjunction with the survey being conducted by the Kingston Housing Committee, the Kingston Daily Freeman is publishing a questionnaire to be filled out by both property owners and prospective residents. The questionnaires are returnable March 21 and should be addressed to the Kingston Housing Committee, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y.

This is a matter of tremendous importance to the community and both landlords and home-seekers should furnish the information requested by the committee.

One of the questions for property owners asks whether they would consider state aid as a means for reconditioning their property. The committee states that after the survey has been completed, a representative of the State Housing Committee will visit Kingston and outline what state aid can be rendered property owners, who have property which is now in need of repair and which can be made into livable quarters.

The committee states there are at the present time a number of places which can be reconditioned and made available for occupancy.

A country almost all desert and terrifically hot does not sound worth coveting. Yet before the war Great Britain, France and Italy divided up between them Somaliland, on the Red Sea below Egypt. The attraction was the harbors, not very good but better than nothing. There may also have been thought of the future, when Ethiopia, lying inland, will need an outlet to the sea. Now the question arises, what shall become of Somaliland? The probable solution is a trusteeship of the United Nations, in which Ethiopia, as well as Great Britain and France, will have a hand.

TROUBLESOME NAMES

It was inconsiderate of Great Britain's Labor government to give two of its most important posts to men of such similar names as Ernest Bevin and Aneurin Bevan. Bevin is the foreign minister, successor to Anthony Eden. Bevan, a Welsh coal miner, is minister of health, with housing under his charge. Probably the British have no trouble in telling them apart, but Americans are likely to get mixed.

Still, we shouldn't criticize, for most people have troubles in distinguishing Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, and Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors.

College professors will try anything. A group of them, members of the American Sociological Society, have been charting Cupid and his ways. Faculty members of the University of Syracuse, the University of Chicago and Michigan State College report that from their studies of several hundred marriages, couples in their 30's make a better go of the wedded state than younger couples in marital relations, income management, social activities, in-law relationships and religion.

MOUNTAINEERING AT 75

Prime Minister Jan Smuts of the Union of South Africa, who will be 76 in May, climbed a mountain recently to show that he was physically fit. This recalls President Roosevelt's feats of sailing or of severe campaigning to silence whispers that he was in bad physical condition.

This probably is not the whole story in Smuts' case, as it was not in Roosevelt's. The old Boer general has always kept himself fit. His mountaineering and Roosevelt's sailing are of a piece with Lord Balfour's tennis-playing at 70. They indulged in this strenuous activity because they liked it.

Some people will be buying expensive airplanes and starting out to fly around the world. Others will be found to buy an inexpensive globe, sit down in a comfortable chair before a fire, light a pipe, and let the world turn around for them. The former have enterprise and money. The latter perhaps have more imagination. One way may satisfy as

WHAT IS SAFETY?

Does Soviet Russia have to conquer the whole of Europe and Asia to provide safety for her borders?

Already, Russia has seized Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Austria, much of Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Northern Iran, possibly Sinkiang, Mongolia, half of Manchuria, half of Korea, the Kuriles. She is marching on Turkey and Iraq. Where will Russia stop?

This war started on September 1, 1939, to preserve the territorial and administrative integrity of Poland. Hitler's crime was the Anschluss with Austria and the seizure of Czechoslovakia. He had outraged world public opinion at Munich. When he attacked Poland the civilized world turned on him as though he were a mad dog. I say the civilized world, for at that moment Russia was his partner.

But at no stage, short of the actual World War II, did Hitler's infamy reach that of Soviet Russia at the present moment. Using American tanks and American arms, benefiting by American Lend-Lease and American perfidy at Teheran, Yalta, Moscow and Potsdam, Russia bestrides the world, a synthetic colossus, incapable of putting a brake upon its predatory momentum and shouting that small, defenseless, harmless nations imperil its safety. The newest cry is that Russia cannot permit preparations for war on its boundaries. Where are those boundaries?

Believing that Great Britain cannot fight for five years and that the United States has been weakened by Communist-fomented strikes, encouraged by the weakness and vacillation of American foreign policy, not having learned yet that this country in a just cause becomes united whatever its internal differences may be, the Russian accepts this as the right time to prevent a peace, to intimidate the smaller countries, to pursue a century-old plan of destroying the British Empire and for pursuing the Leninist-Stalinist program for the conquest of the whole of mankind by means of the world revolution.

This is what America faces. And those who are so myopic as not to realize the truth, who are so paralyzed by propaganda opiates as not to believe the truth, will one day suffer the shock of glaring into an ugly, bitter, miserable fact close at hand—the fact of war again—war costing American blood and American wealth. The only way to prevent that war is to recognize immediately and fully that Stalin has succeeded to Hitler's mad dreams of world conquest, to recognize immediately that this country can only safeguard itself by insisting that, except for Germany and Japan, the boundaries of September 1, 1939, are the only ones this country will recognize, and that we shall not permit, by whatever means are at our disposal, any further conquests by anybody.

This seems drastic and harsh. Shall the United States face a situation less drastic and harsh when we become an island facing a Communist Europe and a Communist Asia? Did you not notice that Toledano, the leader of Mexican Communism, is a candidate for the Mexican Presidency? Do we need to wait until it is too late to wait and too late to act?

A Communist is a Russian agent. Whether a soldier or a civilian, he is a Russian agent. In every country, the Communists act as Russian Fifth Columnists. In the United States, the American Communists, taking orders from Duclos, a French Communist, reorganized their party, threw out Earl Browder, elevated Eugene Dennis, and re-adopted the revolutionary line. Immediately the United States broke out into a rash of strikes. Even worse, Joe Curran, who had cooperated with the Communists, in control of our merchant marine during the war, is being thrown out because his Left-Wingism is not sufficiently orthodox. The Communist press in this country, as in all the world, acts as a Russian propaganda vehicle. Russia conducts two wars at once—a war by arms, a war by Communist organization and propaganda.

The U.N.O. is fussily organizing for world peace, and Senator Connally proposes that the Big Three meet again. Every time the Big Three meet, a bloody war is born. U.N.O. seems to be a hope but not much of a hope.

How long will the American people be blind to what is happening to them, to their ideals, to their way of life, their principles? How long? (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

REMOVAL OF TONSILS

A close relative of mine died a few years ago from heart disease. The heart specialist had told him some months before that if he had his tonsils removed and "took it easy" he'd live for a number of years. He did rest more but refused to have his tonsils removed because his son had had his tonsils removed and had begun to bleed a few days later, a fact which he (the father) could not soon forget.

Now it is only fair to say that bleeding from the tonsils often is alarming not only to patient and family but to the family physician and surgeon though fortunately in most cases, it is readily stopped.

In Archives of Otolaryngology (ear and throat) Dr. H. Nevert states that removal of tonsils and adenoids are often complicated by bleeding which occurs generally on the sixth or seventh day after operation. As he had learned in Europe that these hemorrhages occur less often than in the United States and Canada and believed that it was because acetyl salicylic acid is used in Canada, England and the United States whereas in central Europe aminopyrine is used.

Why does acetyl salicylic acid which is so helpful and so widely used for sore throats and rheumatism cause a tendency of the patient to bleed after removal of tonsils and adenoids?

It has been shown that acetyl salicylic acid reduces the amount of thrombin in the blood and it is thrombin that helps the blood to clot and thus prevent bleeding after operation.

However as acetyl salicylic acid is such a useful drug in allaying pain, helping the circulation and relaxing or loosening up muscles and joints, Dr. Nevert sought a method of continuing to use acetyl salicylic acid, yet prevent it reducing the thrombin in the blood. He accordingly combined a vitamin K compound, sinkavite, with acetyl salicylic acid. Only 4 among 283 patients were troubled with bleeding by the use of this combination.

This means that those who may naturally fear bleeding after operation can feel assured that they can get the soothing effects of acetyl salicylic acid with small chance of bleeding after operation.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
World Traveler

Vienna, March 16—This little state of Austria is on a mighty tough spot, for her geographical position makes her a pawn in the great and dangerous readjustment of balance of power which is going on in Europe.

That is a personal tragedy for Austria. But for the rest of the world it is—or should be—a sharp reminder that the remodeling of Europe and Asia constitutes a peril to international peace.

Austria lies just within the strategic zone which observers generally have recognized as the Russians' minimum objective in their westward sweep across Europe. Moscow's tentative goal—as it emerged in the closing days of the war—was a line running from the German port of Stettin on the north, southward to the head of the Adriatic. East of that line lay the enlarged Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

The Muscovites have consolidated all that vast area with the exception of Austria. This country remains in occupation by the four Allied powers, and so is neither fish, fowl nor yet good red meat.

Russian Contingent Biggest
I understand, as reported in yesterday's column, that the Americans, British and French would like to terminate four-power occupation at an early date and turn the country over to the newly elected Austrian government. The Russians, however, aren't prepared for such a move, and are keeping in their zone a force of troops which is far bigger than all the other Allied contingents together.

Well, this stalemate is easy to understand if you don't forget that Moscow regards Austria as an essential part of the Russian zone of occupation. The Austrians say that there, a large part of the indigenous food is requisitioned for the big Red Army. So far as I know the Russians haven't replied to this claim. The other Allies import their own food.

This food problem is one which will have to be shouldered by U.N.R.R.A. which takes over in Austria the first of next month.

But three grades of milk were to be sold in Kingston after September 1, 1926, under the provisions of a new milk ordinance which the Board of Health at its meeting on June 8, of that year, directed Corporation Counsel James Jenkins to draft.

Under the provisions of the ordinance the three grades permitted to be sold in Kingston were certified milk, Grade A raw, and Grade B pasteurized.

The new ordinance eliminated the sale of Grade B milk, which the majority of consumers in Kingston were using in 1926. The action taken by the health board had followed many discussions on the part of the board members, and was not a snap action taken on the spur of the moment.

The Board of Public Works at its meeting on July 27, 1926, voted to direct the corporation counsel to draft an amendment to the traffic code of the city, which would make it mandatory for all traffic to halt before it entered Broadway.

The matter came up at the board meeting when Judge Amos Van Etten, one of the members of the board, said that he had observed in other sections of the country that all traffic was required to halt before entering upon any heavily traveled street or thoroughfare, and he believed that similar action should be taken in Kingston.

George F. Chandler, another member of the board, shared Judge Van Etten's opinion, and the board unanimously voted to have Judge Jenkins draft the amendment to the traffic code.

John P. Dorsey, for years one of the best known barbers in the city, died suddenly of a heart attack on July 26, 1926. Mr. Dorsey resided on Green street, and for years was employed in the leading uptown barbershops. If I recall correctly he at one time operated a barbershop of his own in the uptown business district.

Art Smith, the collegian twirler, tossing them over for the Kingston Colonials, defeated the St. Louis Cardinals in a 13-inning game at the Fair Grounds, now the stadium, by a score of 4 to 3, on June 13, 1926. The Colonials that season had a new catcher on the team in the person of Melvin, who caught Art's slants in the big game.

The other Kingston players were Phelps, Kelly, Allen, McCue, Karis, O'Brien, Peters.

It will be seen by the lineup that that season the Kingston players who had starred in the Colonial lineup since the team was first organized in 1921, were no longer in Colonial uniform.

The team that season was under the management of Eddie Phelps, Sr., while his son, Eddie, Jr., played with the team.

Mayor Morris Block in June, 1926, appointed former Alderman John A. Fischer of Abel street as a member of the local civil service board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Peter J. Crough, who had been appointed one of the inspectors of the water department.

Summer 'White House' Stays in Independence
Washington, March 15 (AP)—President Truman's home at Independence, Mo., will be the summer "White House" again this year. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said today.

Ross brought up the matter at a news conference on the basis of an inquiry from the New York Central railroad as to whether Hyde Park, N. Y., might be used. The railroad wanted to know so it could lay additional track, if necessary.

"The answer is no," Ross said.

Legislative Roundup

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill to aid the state's fight against the spread of the golden nematode—a microscopic organism which cuts the yield of potatoes.

The measure permits tax exemption for school and local improvement purposes, of farm lands taken over by the state for fumigation or treatment aimed at the disease.

Legislation has been introduced to appropriate $100,000 for research on the golden nematode, described by the Ives Agricultural Commission as the "most serious" crop disease in New York.

The commission recently reported that the disease was confined to about 1,200 acres in potato-growing regions in the state but that "immediate and drastic action" is needed to eliminate it.

Dewey also signed a bill which gives the Motor Vehicle Commissioner discretionary power to lift a requirement of financial responsibility imposed on persons guilty of repeated, minor violations. The new provision specifies the requirement may be removed if the person has clear driving record for three years.

Other bills signed: Provide four year terms, instead of two, for election commissioners in New York City.

Continue for another year a temporary state commission created in 1936 to assist the federal government in flood control work within the state.

Appropriate $727,376 for payment and operation of the legislative and judiciary for the year beginning April 1. The sum is included in the $243,000,000 state purpose section of Dewey's $555,000,000 budget.

Co-Pilot of Rickenbacker Crew Will Be Dinner Club Speaker at Meeting Tuesday

The author of "We Thought We Heard the Angels Sing," Lt. James C. Whittaker, will be the speaker at the March meeting of Kingston National Dinner Club Tuesday, 6:30 p. m., in the Governor Clinton Hotel. A member of the famous Rickenbacker crew that was stranded for 21 days on the waters of the South Pacific, Lieutenant Whittaker's lecture bears the same title as his book.

He relates his experiences and those of his companions. Starting with the circumstances that led them to the take-off of the near-tragic flight, the lieutenant tells how the plane's radio-compass was damaged, although the mechanic at the field had sworn that the plane was in perfect shape for service. Because of this they were taken off their course, their fuel exhausted after hours of futile attempts to locate a course, and finally, the inevitable forced landing in the sea.

He tells how the group used improvised fishing lines in an effort to secure food, how they prayed to God that He might aid them in their plight, and how one of the men became delirious.

Lieutenant Whittaker, who was Rickenbacker's co-pilot, was the only man to keep a diary during their 21 days on the sea.

The officers for next year were announced as follows: Mrs. George Sheehan, chairman; Mrs. John Bott, vice chairman; Mrs. Raymond Garraghan, secretary; and Mrs. John Edwards, treasurer. The short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Chilson, chairman.

The paper for the evening was prepared and read by Mrs. John Bott. It was entitled, "The Family Book for the School Child." Mrs. Bott emphasized in the paper that parents should seek their child's level of intelligence so as not to expect too much or too little of a child. In this way they can help the child find his place in the world. She also stressed that the emotional life of a child is most important and should be watched by parents. The first requirement in dealing with emotions of a child is not to make light of them, she warned. She also feels that parents can trust that children will outgrow undesirable emotional reactions.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Anthony Messina on Hoffman street.

Colonial Bazaar Is Held by Local D. A. R. At Chapter House

Wiltwyck Chapter D.A.R. held its second annual bazaar and card parties Friday afternoon and evening at the chapter house. In spite of the weather the event was well attended and the Children of the American Revolution assisted the older group.

In fact the C.A.R. booth, selling candy, won the first prize for the most attractive in the bazaar. Co-operating in the general theme of a Colonial House, the C.A.R. chose the Dining Room for the name of their booth. The table was arranged with red and white damask and a lace cloth as a setting for many varieties of homemade candy and sweets. On either side of the booth was draped with red damask. Mrs. Roger Billings and Mrs. R. R. Empringham assisted the young people in preparing the booth.

The second prize was awarded The Kitchen arranged by Mrs. Myron Boice, Mrs. Catherine Clearwater and Mrs. John D. Groves. All varieties of homemade food were on sale such as pies, cakes, and even clam chowder. The booth was hung with wrought iron kettles, coffee pots and other cooking utensils.

Judges for the booths were Mrs. Lancelot Phelps, Mrs. Frederick Snyder and Mrs. William A. Frey. The Sitting Room under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Tremper contained fancy articles and was decorated with blue and white crepe paper. Mrs. H. F. Whitney sold miscellaneous household articles at the Attic Treasures booth which was arranged with a red table cloth and draperies of old lace curtains. The Saratoga Trinket was filled with various articles sold by Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle and The Pantry trimmed with green and white crepe paper offered handmade aprons. Mrs. G. N. Wood, Mrs. J. G. Steiner and Mrs. Richard H. D. Boerker had charge of this booth.

Both the afternoon and evening card parties were most successful this year with 25 tables in play at each. Mrs. Maynard Mize had charge. Tables were set in the dining room, board room and upstairs rooms of the chapter house. During the afternoon and evening refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Clarence L. ### Diamond Anniversary

Viroqua, Wis., March 16 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George Turner observed their 75th wedding anniversary today in the two-story, two-room log cabin which they built with their own hands in 1871 and which has been their home ever since.

Turner, who will be 96 years old on June 13, and his wife, 92 on June 14, have rejected Viroqua's plans to "do the thing up well" in celebrating the couple's diamond anniversary.

They said "going places" just never appealed to them, and they planned to observe the day in the cabin they built from the oak and basswood timber on the 52-acre farm, the home in which they raised four children.

Married at 20
Turner was an English immigrant lad of 20 when he courted and married 16-year old Mary Jane Best.

"We met at a service at a little Methodist Church near my home," Mrs. Turner recalled today.

"We liked each other from the start but George was timid and stood in awe of my stepmother. I was determined to hold my sweetheart in spite of her objections."

A relative had a would-be bridegroom all picked out for Mary Jane but on March 16, 1871, she and Turner were married by a Methodist Circuit Rider in her home.

The Turners had a lot of fun in their early wedded years when they attended spelling bees, taffy pulls, and quilting parties. The stage driver brought all the latest news from "over the ridge."

Now the Turners have a telephone and they subscribe to a daily newspaper, which they read without glasses. Two of their four children, Henry and Arthur live in Viroqua, John lives in Chicago and Mrs. Carrie Orrison in Tomah, Wis.

Cood Taste Today

(Author of " Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

HAVING EARS PIERCED
The following question is certainly an echo from the past: "Our young daughter (12) wants to have her ears pierced for earrings. She says that most of her friends are doing this and she'd like to do the same. I have tried to persuade her that she is too young, but anything I say is of no avail."

This seems a strange question today when lovely clip earrings are worn by everyone. The only point in favor of having ears pierced is that very valuable jewels in "go-through" earrings are safe and clip ones (even with ear chains) are not! However, if very young girls are having holes made in their ears, twelve is about the usual age to have this done.

When a Waiter Complains

Dear Mrs. Post: On a visit to a great city, a waiter told me one day my tip was not enough. In order not to create a scene in the restaurant I added to it. What I should have done was to pick up the amount and walk out. Will you make some comment on this behavior?

Answer: If he gave you inefficient service, you could have said "It was more than enough for the service you gave me" and left. If you had no complaints with the service you might have shown surprise and asked, "How much should it be? That would be the right tip in my town?" and then added the difference. (All in perfectly good temper, of course!)

Hotel Preferred

Dear Mrs. Post: What about the bridegroom's family when they come here for the wedding? There will be his mother, father and two sisters and they are all as yet strangers to us. Our wedding will be small. Mother wonders if they should be invited to stay at our house? We can accommodate them, but not comfortably. Shall we take rooms for them at a hotel and pay for these our relatives to put them up?

Answer: The one obligation of your family is to make sure of somewhere for them to stay. Very seldom do people expect to stay at the bride's house because too many wedding preparations are going on. But you might ask them whether they would prefer to stay with your relatives or have you get rooms for them at a hotel? However, you are not expected to pay this particular bill.

What percentage of the dinner bill should be left for a tip? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "General Suggestions on Tipping," obtainable for a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 98, Station G, New York, 19, N. Y.

Accidents Cause 7,918 Deaths in N. Y. During '46

Poisonous Gas and Falls Account for Large Number of Home Mishaps

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Accidents caused 7,918 deaths last year in New York, and nearly half of the victims were injured at home, State Health Department statistics show.

Fatal domestic mishaps have increased steadily, the department reported last night. The 3,747 of 1945 represented a 24 per cent rise over the number recorded in 1944. The increase was attributed chiefly to falls and poisonous gas. Most of the victims were 65 years old or more.

Last year's over-all total was seven per cent more than the record low of 1944, the report said.

Auto Toll

The automobile toll, which dropped to a low of 1,583 in 1944, rose eight per cent above that to 1,710 the following year, the report continued, and this "undoubtedly reflected the discontinuance of gasoline rationing."

For comparison, the report noted that the average for 1929-1931 had been 3,180 automobile deaths a year.

Farm accidents took 110 lives in 1945, where the total of occupational fatalities dropped from 341 to 323 in the year. In New York, city it went from 238 to 278.

"Public" accidents, most of them falls or railroad casualties, resulted in 1,729 deaths, 16 per cent more than the 1944 total.

Records show that the 25-64 age group suffered the heaviest losses in all except the domestic accident category, the report concluded.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz was born in Fredericksburg, Tex.

Argentine Actress Target of Tarbombs

Buenos Aires, March 16 (AP)—Two women were injured when a bomb was thrown into the hall of the Smart Theatre last night at the conclusion of a performance marked by a gallery occupant's attack on actress Luisa Vehil.

When Miss Vehil first appeared on the stage in her starring role in "Fascination" a man in the gallery shouted:

"This woman is a Jew and a Communist unworthy of acting in the Argentine theatre."

Two tarbombs were thrown to the stage, staining the actress' dress. Police immediately arrested the man and another man who accompanied him.

Miss Vehil, who recently took a prominent part in demonstrations supporting the Democratic Union, interrupted the play to declare:

"I am not a Communist nor a Jew. I am a Catholic and was born in Uruguay, where I learned to love liberty."

The play proceeded without further interruption but as the audience emerged from the theatre a bomb was thrown into a hall.

Purge of Pro-Soviet Aides In Army Intelligence Must Be Done, Military Demands

Washington, March 16 (AP)—House Military Committee members threatened today to "name names" if the State Department refuses to dismiss Intelligence employees whose loyalty the committee has questioned.

Irked by the State Department's denial that the committee has made "strong representations" against a number of employees, with alleged pro-Soviet leanings, committee members said privately they may recommend issuance of a formal and detailed report on their investigation.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) declined to comment on what course the committee might take but other members were less reticent.

One committee member took exception to the statement of Secretary of State Byrnes at his news conference yesterday that Chairman May (D-Ky.) had never made "representations" against departmental employees.

This congressman, who would not be quoted directly, insisted that the committee, counsel, H. Ralph Burton, had conferred with Byrnes and mentioned at least one name.

Inconclusive Meeting

"Mr. Burton spent about an hour with Mr. Byrnes and laid out the whole picture before him," this legislator maintained. "How many names he mentioned, I don't know because I wasn't there and there was no formal report. We were trying to prevent embarrassment in the State Department, but if they want us to be specific, we can be that way, too."

Another committee member said Burton's visit to Byrnes last October was preceded by a verbal report to President Truman by Chairman May himself. May, this

Perfect Weather Awaits For St. Patrick's Parade

New York, March 16 (AP)—With bagpipers skirling and emerald green banners flying, the men—and women—from Cork, Kerry, Dublin and other parts of Ireland pay their annual tribute to St.

Patrick today in the traditional parade up Fifth avenue. And for the first time since 1894, an Irish-born mayor—Shure isn't William O'Dwyer a fine brood of a bye from Ould County Mayo—will be in the reviewing stand as the expected 75,000 Sons of Erin and their gay colleens march along to the lilting music of band and pipes.

The weatherman—who must be an O'Brien or a Murphy—has promised sunny skies for the wearing of the green.

The Labrador duck was first known to science in 1788, and the last reported member of its tribe was killed by a hunter in 1875.

HOUSING SURVEY

In conjunction with the survey being conducted by the Kingston Housing Committee, the Kingston Daily Freeman is publishing a questionnaire to be filled out by both property owners and prospective residents. The questionnaires are returnable March 21 and should be addressed to the Kingston Housing Committee, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y.

This is a matter of tremendous importance to the community and both landlords and home-seekers should furnish the information requested by the committee.

One of the questions for property owners asks whether they would consider state aid as a means for reconditioning their property. The committee states that after the survey has been completed, a representative of the State Housing Committee will visit Kingston and outline what state aid can be rendered property owners, who have property which is now in need of repair and which can be made into livable quarters.

The committee states there are at the present time a number of places which can be reconditioned and made available for occupancy.

A country almost all desert and terrifically hot does not sound worth coveting. Yet before the war Great Britain, France and Italy divided up between them Somaliland, on the Red Sea below Egypt. The attraction was the harbors, not very good but better than nothing. There may also have been thought of the future, when Ethiopia, lying inland, will need an outlet to the sea. Now the question arises, what shall become of Somaliland? The probable solution is a trusteeship of the United Nations, in which Ethiopia, as well as Great Britain and France, will have a hand.

TROUBLESOME NAMES

It was inconsiderate of Great Britain's Labor government to give two of its most important posts to men of such similar names as Ernest Bevin and Aneurin Bevan. Bevin is the foreign minister, successor to Anthony Eden. Bevan, a Welsh coal miner, is minister of health, with housing under his charge. Probably the British have no trouble in telling them apart, but Americans are likely to get mixed.

Still, we shouldn't criticize, for most people have troubles in distinguishing Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, and Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors.

College professors will try anything. A group of them, members of the American Sociological Society, have been charting Cupid and his ways. Faculty members of the University of Syracuse, the University of Chicago and Michigan State College report that from their studies of several hundred marriages, couples in their 30's make a better go of the wedded state than younger couples in marital relations, income management, social activities, in-law relationships and religion.

MOUNTAINEERING AT 75

Prime Minister Jan Smuts of the Union of South Africa, who will be 76 in May, climbed a mountain recently to show that he was physically fit. This recalls President Roosevelt's feats of sailing or of severe campaigning to silence whispers that he was in bad physical condition.

This probably is not the whole story in Smuts' case, as it was not in Roosevelt's. The old Boer general has always kept himself fit. His mountaineering and Roosevelt's sailing are of a piece with Lord Balfour's tennis-playing at 70. They indulged in this strenuous activity because they liked it.

Some people will be buying expensive airplanes and starting out to fly around the world. Others will be found to buy an inexpensive globe, sit down in a comfortable chair before a fire, light a pipe, and let the world turn around for them. The former have enterprise and money. The latter perhaps have more imagination. One way may satisfy as

WHAT IS SAFETY?

Does Soviet Russia have to conquer the whole of Europe and Asia to provide safety for her borders?

Already, Russia has seized Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Austria, much of Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Northern Iran, possibly Sinkiang, Mongolia, half of Manchuria, half of Korea, the Kuriles. She is marching on Turkey and Iraq. Where will Russia stop?

This war started on September 1, 1939, to preserve the territorial and administrative integrity of Poland. Hitler's crime was the Anschluss with Austria and the seizure of Czechoslovakia. He had outraged world public opinion at Munich. When he attacked Poland the civilized world turned on him as though he were a mad dog. I say the civilized world, for at that moment Russia was his partner.

But at no stage, short of the actual World War II, did Hitler's policy reach that of Soviet Russia at the present moment. Using American tanks and American arms, benefiting by American Lend-Lease and American perfidy at Teheran, Yalta, Moscow and Potsdam, Russia besides the world, a synthetic colossus, incapable of putting a brake upon its predatory momentum and shouting that small, defenseless, harmless nations imperil its safety. The newest cry is that Russia cannot permit preparations for war on its boundaries. Where are those boundaries?

Believing that Great Britain cannot fight for five years and that the United States has been weakened by Communist-fomented strikes, encouraged by the weakness and vacillation of American foreign policy, not having learned yet that this country in a just cause becomes united whatever our internal differences may be, the Russian accepts this as the right time to prevent a peace, to intimidate the smaller countries, to pursue a century-old plan of destroying the British Empire and for pursuing the Leninist-Stalinist program for the conquest of the whole of mankind by means of the world revolution.

This is what America faces. And those who are so myopic as not to realize the truth, who are so narcotized by propagandistic opiates as not to believe the truth, will one day suffer the shock of glaring into an ugly, bitter, miserable fact close at home—the fact of war again—war costing American blood and American wealth. The only way to prevent that war is to recognize immediately and fully that Stalin has succeeded to Hitler's mad dreams of world conquest, to recognize immediately that this country can only safeguard itself by insisting that, except for Germany and Japan, the boundaries of September 1, 1939, are the only ones this country will recognize, and that we shall not permit, by whatever means are at our disposal, any further conquests by anybody.

This seems drastic and harsh. Shall the United States face a situation less drastic and harsh when we become an island facing a Communist Europe and a Communist Asia? Did you not notice that Toledano, the leader of Mexican Communism, is a candidate for the Mexican Presidency? Do we need to wait until it is too late to wait and too late to act?

A Communist is a Russian agent. Whether a soldier or a civilian, he is a Russian agent. In every country, the Communist acts as Russian Fifth Columnists. In the United States, the American Communists, taking orders from Dulles, a French Communist, reorganized their party, threw out Earl Browder, elevated Eugene Dennis, and re-adopted the revolutionary line. Immediately the United States broke out into a rash of strikes. Even worse, Joe Curran, who had cooperated with the Communists, in control of our merchant marine during the war, is being thrown out because his Left-Wingism is not sufficiently orthodox. The Communist press in this country, as in all the world, acts as a Russian propaganda vehicle. Russia conducts two wars at once—a war by arms, a war by Communist organization and propaganda.

The U.N.O. is fussily organizing for world peace, and Senator Connally proposes that the Big Three meet again. Every time the Big Three meet, a tragedy was born. U.N.O. seems to be a hope but not much of a hope.

How long will the American people be blind to what is happening to them, to their ideals, to their way of life, their principles? How long? (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

REMOVAL OF TONSILS

A close relative of mine died a few years ago from heart disease. The heart specialist had told him some months before that if he had his tonsils removed and "took it easy" he'd live for a number of years. He did rest more but refused to have his tonsils removed because his son had had his tonsils removed and had begun to bleed a few days later, a fact which he (the father) could not soon forget.

Now it is only fair to say that bleeding from the tonsils often is alarming not only to patient and family but to the family physician and surgeon though fortunately in most cases, it is readily stopped.

In Archives of Otolaryngology (ear and throat) Dr. H. Neivert states that the removal of tonsils and adenoids are often complicated by bleeding which occurs generally on the sixth or seventh day after operation. As he had learned in Europe that these hemorrhages occur less often than in the United States and Canada and believed that it was because acetyl salicylic acid is used in Canada, England and the United States whereas in central Europe aminopyrine is used.

Why does acetyl salicylic acid which is so helpful and so widely used for sore throats and rheumatism cause a tendency of the patient to bleed after removal of tonsils and adenoids?

It has been shown that acetyl salicylic acid reduces the amount of thrombin in the blood and it is thrombin that helps the blood to clot and thus prevent bleeding after operation.

However as acetyl salicylic acid is such a useful drug in allaying pain, helping the circulation and relaxing or loosening up muscles and joints, Dr. Neivert sought a method of continuing to use acetyl salicylic acid, yet prevent it reducing the thrombin in the blood. He accordingly combined a vitamin K compound, sinkavite, with acetyl salicylic acid. Only 4 among 283 patients were troubled with bleeding by the use of this combination.

This means that those who may naturally fear bleeding after operation can feel assured that they can get the soothing effects of acetyl salicylic acid with small chance of bleeding after operation.

Vienna, March 16 — This little state of Austria is on a mighty tough spot, for her geographical position makes her a pawn in the great and dangerous readjustment of balance of power which is going on in Europe.

That is a personal tragedy for Austria. But for the rest of the world it is—or should be—a sharp reminder that the remodeling of Europe and Asia constitutes a peril to international peace.

Austria lies just within the strategic zone which observers generally have recognized as the Russians' minimum objective in their westward sweep across Europe. Moscow's tentative goal — as it emerged in the closing days of the war — was a line running from the German port of Stettin on the north, southward to the head of the Adriatic. East of that line lay the enlarged Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

The Muscovites have consolidated all that vast area with the exception of Austria. This country remains in occupation by the four Allied powers, and so is neither fish, fowl nor yet good red meat.

Russian Contingent Biggest

I understand, as reported in yesterday's column, that the Americans, British and French would like to terminate four-power occupation at an early date and turn the country over to the newly elected Austrian government. The Russians, however, aren't prepared for such a move, and are keeping in their zone a force of troops which is far bigger than all the other Allied contingents together.

Well, this stalemate is easy to understand if you don't forget that Moscow regards Austria as an essential part of the Russian zone of influence. It means, however, that as things now stand, the four powers will continue to hang on here.

Can't Stand Financial Strain

Protracted military occupation of Austria will mean economic disaster, in the view of many economic experts. One hears for example, that last month the Russians put in a claim for some thirty million dollars for maintenance of the army, this sum being many times the amount required by any of the other Allies with their smaller forces. Such a cost is far beyond the means of this small country and must lead to chaos if not contained.

That, however, is a contingency of the future. More to the point is the shortage of food which is producing much under-nourishment in some parts of the country. This scarcity has forced the Allied authorities to cut the basic food ration down to 1,200 calories a day.

Many of the people are already subsisting on 700 calories. Your doctor will tell you that 2,000 calories is the minimum necessary to maintain health.

The food shortage is said to be especially serious in the Russian zone of occupation. The Austrians say that there, a large part of the indigenous food is requisitioned for the big Red Army. So far as I know the Russians haven't replied to this claim. The other Allies import their own food.

This food problem is one which will have to be shouldered by U.N.R.R.A. which takes over in Austria the first of next month.

By 1943 hospital plans protected 11,000,000 people in more than 70 communities in the United States.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

But three grades of milk were to be sold in Kingston after September 1, 1926, under the provisions of a new milk ordinance which the Board of Health at its meeting on June 8, of that year, directed Corporation Counsel James Jenkins to draft.

Under the provisions of the ordinance the three grades permitted to be sold in Kingston were certified milk, Grade A raw, and Grade B pasteurized.

The new ordinance eliminated the sale of Grade B milk, which the majority of consumers in Kingston were using in 1926.

The action taken by the health board had followed many discussions on the part of the board members, and was not a snap action taken on the spur of the moment.

The Board of Public Works at its meeting on July 27, 1926, voted to direct the corporation counsel to draft an amendment to the traffic code of the city, which would make it mandatory for all traffic to halt before it entered Broadway.

The matter came up at the board meeting when Judge Amos Van Etten, one of the members of the board, said that he had observed in other sections of the country that all traffic was required to halt before entering upon any heavily traveled street or thoroughfare, and he believed that similar action should be taken in Kingston.

Dr. George F. Chandler, another member of the board, shared Judge Van Etten's opinion, and the board unanimously voted to amend the traffic code.

John P. Dorsey, for years one of the best known barbers in the city, died suddenly of a heart attack on July 26, 1926. Mr. Dorsey resided on Green street, and for years was employed in the leading uptown barbershops. If I recall correctly he at one time operated a barbershop of his own in the uptown business district.

Art Smith, the collegian twirler, tossing them over for the Kingston Colonials, defeated the St. Louis Cardinals in a 13-inning game at the Fair Grounds, now the stadium, by a score of 4 to 3, on June 13, 1926. The Colonials that season had a new catcher on the team in the person of Melvin, who caught Art's slants in the big game.

The other Kingston players were Phelps, Kelly, Allen, McCue, Karis, O'Brien, Peters.

It will be seen by the lineup that that season the Kingston players who had starred in the Colonial lineup since the team was first organized in 1921, were no longer in Colonial uniform.

The team that season was under the management of Eddie Phelps, Sr., while his son, Eddie, Jr., played with the team.

Mayor Morris Block in June, 1926, appointed former Alderman John A. Fischer of Abel street as a member of the local civil service board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Peter J. Crough, who had been appointed one of the inspectors of the water department.

Summer 'White House' Stays in Independence

Washington, March 15 (AP)—President Truman's home at Independence, Mo., will be the summer "White House" again this year.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said today.

Ross brought up the matter at a news conference on the basis of an inquiry from the New York Central railroad as to whether Hyde Park, N. Y., might be used.

The railroad wanted to know so it could lay additional track, if necessary.

"The answer is no," Ross said.

Legislative Roundup

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey today signed a bill to aid the state's fight against the spread of the golden nematode—a microscopic organism which cuts the yield of potatoes.

The measure permits tax exemption for school and local improvement purposes, of farm lands taken over by the state for fumigation or treatment aimed at the disease.

Legislation has been introduced to appropriate $100,000 for research on the golden nematode, described by the Ives Agricultural Commission as the "most serious" crop disease in New York.

The commission recently reported that the disease was confined to about 1,200 acres in potato-growing regions in the state but that "immediate and drastic action" is needed to eliminate it.

Dewey also signed a bill which gives the Motor Vehicle Commissioner discretionary power to lift a requirement of financial responsibility imposed on persons guilty of repeated, minor vehicle law violations. The new provision specifies the requirement may be removed if the person has a clear driving record for three years.

The provision does not change the general law under which persons involved in accidents resulting in death, personal injury or property damage in excess of $25 must furnish proof of financial responsibility.

Other bills signed: Provide four year terms, instead of two, for election commissioners in New York City.

Continue for another year a temporary state commission created in 1935 to assist the federal government in flood control work within the state.

Appropriate $8,727,376 for pay and operation of the legislature and judiciary for the year beginning April 1. The sum is included in the $243,000,000 state property section of Dewey's $555,000,000 budget.

Maroon Cagers Are Lauded By Officials at Assembly

Before a special student assembly Friday afternoon, members of the championship Kingston High School basketball team were awarded their letters and at the same time received the Senator Thomas C. Desmond trophy emblematic of their success as DUSO League champions for the 1945-46 season.

Following a program of music conducted by Leonard Stine, Tom McNelis, president of the athletic association, took the rostrum and presented a summary of the past year's season to the assembly. The first letter was presented by McNelis to Tony Albany, the No. 1 star of K.H.S. last year.

In turn, the A.A. president awarded the block K's to Bob Murray, co-captain of the squad; Bob Gheer, Len Siskler, Bob Miller, George Glaser, Ed Weaver, and Phil Feeney, manager of the championship team. Gheer, Miller, Glaser and Weaver will return for the 1946-47 basketball campaign.

Better Bowling
By Billy Sixty

USE WIDE ANGLE: The average score of a woman bowler is 140, but this could be substantially increased with improved spare shooting.

The majority of women do not have sufficient strength in their hands or fingers to apply either spin, nor do they have the speed to control the ball from a "short" angle. They usually shoot a straight ball, therefore, it is best for accuracy that they use the widest angle possible for spares (see illustration).

But even in shooting the 7 and 10, the wider angle ball has coverage of ball plus pin width, whereas shooting the No. 10 along the right side allows only for a direct hit and left-side-of-the-pin margin. The gutter gobbles up a ball to the right side of the pin, and there is the big chance of error, too, on an alley that "runs" or breaks quickly to the left.

When shooting the No. 10 from the left side, allow for a fade to the right (reverse) of two or more inches, and about the same amount of hook (left turn of ball) on the No. 7 spare. But learn to use a wide angle—from the beginning.

A man in love keeps his car washed and polished

He was in traffic court, charged with speeding. Judge—Guilty or not guilty? Motorist—Your Honor, I'll admit that I made some corners on two wheels, but I did it only to save my tires. Judge—Discharged.

Griff says: "We don't like this new gun that shoots around the corner. It might hit prosperity."

Patience is a good all-year-round lubricant for the wheels of life.

Two motor enthusiasts were bragging about their cars. First—My car can't be stopped on the hills. Second—Mine was that way, too, until I had the brakes fixed.

Spring Fever Relapse! "My man?" asked Liza, chopping wood. "Just go down where the river bends. You'll find somewhere a fishing pole."

Sporting a worm on both its ends. Grace G. Fisher

There is no telling what any man will do when he is away from home.

For two hours he had been a part of the party. His imitations were terrible—ranging anywhere from George Arliss to a hummingbird. Bore (finally, to man in far corner)—What would you like to see me imitate now?

Man in Corner—How about a Ground Hog that's seen its shadow?

And recalling another old one, there was a very modern employer who ordered the following notice

nares a talk on the South Pacific where he served.

Rodell Has Brilliant Record

Commander Peyer made the presentation to Legionnaire Rodell, who has a brilliant record in Kingston Post. As co-chairman of the Victory Ball last year, he helped raise $4,320.72 for the Legion. During the commandship of Clarence Brown he assisted in netting $2,572.19 on the annual ball, and in 1936-37, while he was commander himself, the police sergeant cleared $3,266.15 on the social affair. His record for membership in the Kingston Post was 778 while he served as its leader. This figure has never been exceeded. The present membership is 715, including ex-servicemen from World Wars 1 and 2. Sergeant Rodell, who at present is post treasurer, stands out as a connoisseur of entertainment and music, he having brought a number of top-flight radio bands to Kingston for the Legion affairs.

Will Donate to Memorial

Regarding a contribution to the Kingston War Memorial Fund, the Legionnaires were of the opinion that a substantial amount should be allotted to the project, but deferred definite action on the matter for the next post meeting on Friday night, April 19.

Commander Samuel Peyer is desirous of having a large attendance at this important session. He urged all of the Legionnaires at last night's meeting to convey his message to their comrades.

Ernest Stueding, chairman of the War Memorial project was present at last night's Legion meeting and fully outlined plans for the program.

It was voted on to redecorate the meeting hall at the Legion, also to make improvements to the recreation room.

The next county meeting, it was announced, will be held at the Central School in Marlborough on Thursday, March 21 at 8 p. m.

U. S. Removed War Loot From Japan Pravda Writer Says

Moscow, March 16 (P)—Pravda, in a dispatch from Vladivostok, said today the United States was removing highly valuable property from Japan to the United States. A special Tass correspondent said his story was based on reports in Japanese newspapers and in the Tokyo edition of Stars and Stripes. The dispatch in the Communist party organ said the loot reported to be seized by the Americans included platinum, gold, silver, jewelry and other property from a German warehouse, worth $300,000.

Pravda quoted Japanese newspapers as saying that on October 10, 1945, American military authorities took 630 pounds of platinum, some gold and upwards of 248 tons of silver from the Japanese military and naval ministries. Stars and Stripes of November 7, 1945, was quoted as reporting that American counter espionage police discovered and requisitioned a German warehouse in Tokyo, where they appropriated jewelry and other property.

Pravda quoted the Nippon Times of February 8, 1946, as saying that patrols of the 24th Division had requisitioned 400 bars of silver of 73 pounds each.

General MacArthur's Headquarters in Tokyo had reported these seizures at the time each was made. It said the Japanese and Germans illegally were holding the confiscated property, and had violated a MacArthur directive ordering that all such assets be reported.

There was no indication what disposition had been made of the confiscated property.

Accuse Attlee of Hedging on India's Sovereignty Issue

New Delhi, March 16 (P)—Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem League, today attacked as "rope walking" Prime Minister Attlee's statement that India had the right to choose independence from the British Empire.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, former president of the All-India Congress Party, greeted the Prime Minister's statement with reserve.

In Bombay, however, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, now president of the Congress Party, said he believed the spirit of Attlee's speech yesterday to the House of Commons "will generally be appreciated in the country." The Nationalist Free Press Journal of Bombay said in an editorial that the statement was "an outstanding utterance."

Rank and file Nationalist Congress Party members and many of their leaders in Bombay hailed particularly Attlee's assertion that a minority should not be permitted to veto the progress of a majority. It was pointed out that Jinnah, leader of the Pakistan movement for a separate Moslem state, particularly objected.

"I regret," Jinnah said in a statement, "that Mr. Attlee, though in a guarded and qualified manner, has done rope walking when he said 'on the other hand, we cannot allow a minority to place a veto on the advance of a majority.' He has fallen into a trap of false propaganda which has been carried on for some time. There is no question of partition, when he said 'on the other hand, we cannot allow a minority to place a veto on the advance of a majority.' He has fallen into a trap of false propaganda which has been carried on for some time.

"It seems that he was speaking to a larger audience with many voices, but so far as we are concerned, our position remains unchanged. Our division of India and the establishment of Pakistan and that Pakistan is the only solution to India's constitutional problem."

UNO Faces Severe Test in New York

Russia's Willingness to Work Within Rules Is Crux of Session

Washington, March 16 (P)—A decisive test for Russia's willingness to work within U.N.O. framework in the future shaped up today as Iran made known it will ask the Security Council to re-examine its trouble with Moscow.

American officials, who would not be quoted, expressed themselves pleased that Iran had decided on such action, and left no doubt that the United States will give full support to such an appeal. Word of Iran's intention to lay its case again before the Security Council was received at the State Department from Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam, these officials said. This country reportedly was ready to invoke the guarantees of the United Nations Charter in an effort to end the tension which recent Russian moves have created in the highly strategic zone of the Middle East.

Dr. Butler Admits Loss of Eyesight

New York, March 16 (P)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler said in a letter read yesterday at the Metropolitan Club's luncheon for Winston Churchill that "my loss of sight makes it impossible" for him "to attend these public gatherings."

The 83-year-old president-emeritus of Columbia University was to have delivered the welcome address to the former British Prime Minister.

as some of his speeches during Britain's dark days in 1941. However, he did not mention Stalin by name in his talk and referred to him conciliatorily as "the renewed chief" of 180 million Russians and "many more outside Russians."

No Retractions

Standing pat by his Fulton speech—"I do not wish to withdraw or modify a single word"—Churchill denied he had proposed an Anglo-American military alliance but said he had asked for "free voluntary fraternal association."

He continued: "The only question which in my opinion is open is whether the necessary harmony of thought and action between the American and British peoples will be reached in a sufficiently plain and clear manner and in good time to prevent a new world struggle or whether that will only come about, as it has done before, after that struggle has begun."

Russia Doesn't Want War

"I remain convinced that this question will win a favorable answer. I do not believe that war is inevitable or imminent. I do not believe that the rulers of Russia wish for war at the present time. I am sure that if we stand together calmly but resolutely in defense of not national interests or of ambitions, not of any narrow interests—but in defense of those ideals and principles embodied in the charter of the United Nations, we shall find ourselves sustained by the overwhelming assent of the peoples of the world."

Oil Collusion With Britain Moscow Charge Against Iran

London, March 16 (P)—The Moscow radio said today that the Iranian government was "defending the monopolist possession of British oil concessions in Iran" by refusing to grant Russia similar concessions in the country's northern provinces.

The broadcast said the assertion was made by a writer for the government newspaper Izvestia.

It quoted Alexeev as saying that under the 1921 Soviet-Iran Treaty Iran pledged not to transfer to any third power mining, oil, railway or other concessions given up by Russia, but he added that the treaty had been broken "on numerous occasions" by the Iranian government.

Specifically, the writer said concessions were granted to Standard Oil, and that southern Iranian concessions were granted to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

"In a period of 20 years, the Iran government has tried to bring about conflict between the U.S.S.R. and other great powers, Alexeev was quoted as saying. "One must not forget all these facts which have such important significance for the development of Soviet-Iranian relations."

Oil Concessions

The writer said that the Soviet-Iranian Treaty of 1921, which barred "third party" concessions, was made for the security of the Soviet Union, particularly its Baku oil fields. He said the Standard Oil concessions were canceled in 1922 as a result of "energetic protests by the Soviet government," and that the concessions originally were intended to cause interests to "collide" with those of the United States.

Alexeev added that the treaty subsequently was broken by Iran in 1923, 1937 and 1939, with the explanation that Iran did not have the capital, technique or specialists to exploit her own resources.

"However, this was only a maneuver which was completely exposed by the Soviet offer on a concession one and half years ago," he added. "The granting of such a concession would have helped the exploitation of riches and industrial development in northern Iran."

"This proposal of the Soviet was greeted by mad resistance from Iran ruling circles, whilst at the same time in the southern part of Iran a British concession had been granted to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. The existence of such a concession in southern Iran and the refusal to grant Soviet rights for a concession in northern regions in fact amount to defending the monopolist position of the British oil concession in Iran."

Ferdinands of Russia Parents for Sixth Time

Nuernberg, March 16 (P)—Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia became a father for the sixth time today when a son was born to his wife, the Grand Duchess Kira of the Russian House of Romanov.

The baby, the fourth son, probably will be named Sigismund.

Louis Ferdinand and Kira were house guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt on their around-the-world honeymoon trip in 1938.

On their return to Germany they wired the Roosevelt thanks for their hospitality. This so incensed Hitler that he wanted the Prince arrested. Friends intervened, pointing out that the young couple had sent messages not only to the Roosevelt's but also to the Japanese Premier who entertained them.

Louis Ferdinand, a grandson of the last German Kaiser, was employed at one time by the Ford Motor Company in Detroit.

Co-Pilot of Rickenbacker Crew Will Be Dinner Club Speaker at Meeting Tuesday

The author of "We Thought We Heard the Angels Sing," Lt. James C. Whittaker, will be the speaker at the March meeting of Kingston National Dinner Club Tuesday, 6:30 p. m., in the Governor Clinton Hotel. A member of the famous Rickenbacker crew that was stranded for 21 days on the waters of the South Pacific, Lieutenant Whittaker's lecture bears the same title as his book.

He relates his experiences and those of his companions. Starting with the circumstances that led to the crash of the plane, the lieutenant tells how the plane's radio-compass was damaged, although the mechanic at the field had sworn that the plane was in perfect shape for service. Because of this they were taken off their course, their fuel exhausted after hours of futile attempts to locate a course, and finally, the inevitable forced landing in the sea.

He tells how the group used improvised fishing lines in an effort to secure food, how they prayed to God that He might aid them in their plight, and how one of the men became delirious.

Lieutenant Whittaker, who was Rickenbacker's co-pilot, was the only man to keep a diary during their 21 days on the sea.

The short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Sheehan, chairman.

The paper for the evening was prepared and read by Mrs. John Bott. It was entitled, "The Family Goals for the School Child." Mrs. Bott emphasized in the paper that parents should seek their child's level of intelligence so as not to expect too much or too little of a child. In this way they can help the child find his place in the world. She also stressed that the emotional life of a child is most important and should be watched by parents. The first requirement in dealing with emotions of a child is not to make slight of them, she warned. She also feels that parents can trust that children will outgrow undesirable emotional reactions.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Anthony Messina on Hoffman street.

Colonial Bazaar Is Held by Local D. A. R. At Chapter House

Wiltwyck Chapter D.A.R. held its second annual bazaar and card parties Friday afternoon and evening at the chapter house. In spite of the weather the event was well attended and the Children of the American Revolution assisted the older group.

In fact the C.A.R. booth, selling candy, won the first prize for the most attractive in the bazaar. Co-operating in the general theme of a Colonial House, the C.A.R. chose the Dining Room for the name of their booth. The table was arranged with red candles and a lace cloth as a setting for many varieties of homemade candy and sweets. On either side the booth was draped with red damask. Mrs. Foster Billings and Mrs. R. Empringham assisted the young people in preparing the booth.

The second prize was awarded The Kitchen arranged by Mrs. Myron Bouce, Mrs. Catherine Clearwater and Mrs. John D. Groves. All varieties of homemade food were on sale such as pies, cakes, and even clam chowder. The booth was hung with wrought iron kettles, coffee pots and other cooking utensils.

Judges for the booths were Mrs. Lancelot Phelps, Mrs. Frederick Snyder and Mrs. William A. Frey.

The Sitting Room under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Tremper contained fancy articles and was decorated with blue and white crepe paper. Mrs. H. F. Whitney sold miscellaneous household articles at the Attic Treasures booth which was arranged with a red table cloth and draperies of old lace curtains. The Sarcophagus Trunk was filled with various articles sold by Mrs. Burdette R. Little and The Pantry trimmed with green and white crepe paper offered handmade aprons. Mrs. G. N. Wood, Mrs. J. G. Steiner and Mrs. Richard H. D. Boerker had charge of this booth.

Both the afternoon and evening card parties were most successful. Games were played in play at each. Mrs. Maynard Miel had charge. Tables were set in the dining room, board room and upstairs rooms of the chapter house. During the afternoon and evening refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Clarence L. Dunn, regent and general chairman, and Mrs. Charles A. Towillinger, chairman of the bazaar. Many of the women and the children who had charge of booths wore Colonial costumes adding to the dignity and attractiveness of the bazaar.

Industrial Home Children Revive Interest in Music at Weekly Appreciation Hour

One of the projects at the Industrial Home which has been revived since the war is a music group. Known as the music appreciation hour the youngsters meet with Miss Louise Luther each Tuesday afternoon after school to sing and learn some of the simpler rudiments and information about music. At the present time the group is particularly interested in a rhythm band.

The project was started after a musical on St. Valentine's Day. Usually one of Miss Luther's piano pupils assist her with the program. In the photo Miss Joan Brueckner is shown at the piano as she is seated with the group Tuesday.

To explain the different types of pieces special programs are arranged. Thursday a group of pupils presented the following selections as St. Patrick's program: Piano Duet—Echoes of Erin.... arr. by Felton
Phyllis Smith and Teacher
Piano—The Cello.... Wright
Etta Brant
Piano—The Last Rose of Summer

Prisma Plans Spring Activities at Kingston High School, Receives Attention on Adopted Boy
Prisma, one of the oldest and largest organizations at Kingston High School, has been making extensive plans during the last two weeks for spring activities. Composed of about 350 junior and senior girls one of the main aims of the club is to be of service to the school and community.

Actually Kingston High School's Prisma will have nationwide attention soon through an issue of "Seventeen," popular teen-age girls' monthly magazine. An article will appear concerning Prisma's adopted French boy, Michel Poulain. When the serious plight of European children became evident during the war, Prisma decided to adopt a child who would be corresponded and sent gifts. Michel was chosen.

Two packages containing such things as mittens, sweaters, shirts, socks, gum and candy have been sent to him. In return the club has received several letters and some original drawings. He is now in need of a top-coat and the girls are endeavoring to supply this.

One of the projects this spring will be the Prisma Assembly when the club will have charge of the school assembly some time in May. The girls are preparing a short play and have enlisted Miss Madeline Tarrant to coach them. The assembly committee which was appointed at the general meeting Thursday includes the Misses Mary Ann Quaitere, chairman; Ruth Hasbrouck, Thelma Dabney, Adelaide Hunk, Joan Jaffer and Louise Jablonski.

An important date for the girls will be May 29, the night of the annual Prisma dance. As has always with the custom this dance is strictly girl-club and will be held in the high school gymnasium.

Another event will be the spelling contest in which the best spellers from the high school will compete.

Diamond Anniversary

Viroqua, Wis., March 16 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George Turner observed their 75th wedding anniversary today in the two-story, two-room log cabin which they built with their own hands in 1871 and which has been their home ever since.

Turner, who will be 96 years old on June 13, and his wife, 92 on June 14, have rejected Viroqua's plans to "do the thing up well" in celebrating the couple's diamond anniversary.

They said "going places" just never appealed to them, and they planned to observe the day in the cabin they built from the oak and basswood timber on the 52-acre farm, the home in which they raised four children.

Married at 20
Turner was an English immigrant lad of 20 when he courted and married 16-year old Mary Jane Best.

"We met at a service at a little Methodist Church near my home," Mrs. Turner recalled today. "We liked each other from the start but George was timid and stood in awe of my stepmother who objected to our courtship. But I was determined to hold my sweetheart in spite of her objections."

A relative had a would-be bridegroom all picked out for Mary Jane but on March 16, 1871, she and Turner were married by a Methodist Circuit Rider in the home.

The Turners had a lot of fun in their early wedded years when they attended spelling bees, taffy pulls and quilting parties. The stage driver brought all the latest news from "over the ridge."

Now the Turners have a telephone and they subscribe to a daily newspaper which they read without glasses. Two of their four children, Henry and Arthur, live in Viroqua. John lives in Chicago and Mrs. Carrie Orrison in Tomah, Wis.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

HAVING EARS PIERCED
The following question is certainly an echo from the past: "Our young daughter (12) wants to have her ears pierced for earrings. She says that most of her friends are doing this and she'd like to do the same. I have tried to persuade her that she is too young, but anything I say is of no avail."

This seems a strange question today when lovely clip earrings are worn by everyone. The only point in favor of having ears pierced is that very valuable jewels in "go-through" earrings are safe and clip ones (even with ear chains) are not! However, if very young girls are having holes made in their ears, twelve is about the usual age to have this done.

When a Waiter Complains
Dear Mrs. Post: On a visit to a great city, a waiter told me one day my tip was not enough. In order not to create a scene in the restaurant I added to it. What I should have liked to do was pick up the amount and walk out. Will you make some comment on this behavior?

Answer: If he gave you inefficient service, you could have said "The tip was more than enough for the service you gave me" and left it. If you had no complaints with the service you might have shown surprise and asked, "How much should it be? That would be the right tip in my town!" and then added the difference. (All in perfectly good temper, of course!)

Hotel Preferred
Dear Mrs. Post: What about the bridegroom's family when they come here for our wedding? There will be many guests and our sisters and they are all (as yet) strangers to us. Our wedding will be small. Mother wonders if they should be invited to stay at our house? We can accommodate them but not comfortably. Shall we take rooms for them at the hotel and pay for these or ask our relatives to put them up?

Answer: The obligation of your family is to make sure of somewhere for them to stay. Very seldom do people expect to stay at the bride's house because too many wedding preparations are going on. But you might ask them whether they would prefer to stay with your relatives or have you get rooms for them at a hotel. However, you are not expected to pay this particular bill.

Accidents Cause 7,918 Deaths in N. Y. During '46

Poisonous Gas and Falls Account for Large Number of Home Mishaps

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Accidents caused 7,918 deaths last year in New York, and nearly half of the victims were injured at home, State Health Department statistics show.

Fatal domestic mishaps have increased steadily, the department reported last night. The 3,747 of 1945 represented a 24 per cent rise over the number recorded in 1933, first year of complete statistics. The increase was attributed chiefly to the fall and poisonous gas. Most of the victims were 65 years old or more.

Last year's over-all total was seven per cent more than the record low of 1944, the report said.

Auto Toll

The automobile toll, which dropped to a low of 1,583 in 1944, rose eight per cent above that to 1,710 the following year, the report continued, and this "undoubtedly reflected the discontinuance of gasoline rationing."

For comparison, the report noted that the average for 1929-1933 had been 3,180 automobile deaths a year.

Farm accidents took 110 lives, upstate, where the total of occupational fatalities dropped from 341 to 323 in the year. In New York city it went from 258 to 278.

"Public" accidents, most of them falls or railroad casualties, resulted in 1,729 deaths, 16 per cent more than the 1944 total.

Records show that the 25-64 age group suffered the heaviest losses in all except the domestic accident category, the report concluded.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz was born in Fredericksburg, Tex.

Argentine Actress Target of Tarbombs

Buenos Aires, March 16 (AP)—Two women were injured when a bomb was thrown into the hall of the Smart Theatre last night at the conclusion of a performance marked by a gallery occupant's attack on actress Luisa Vehil.

When Miss Vehil first appeared on the stage in her starring role in "Fascination" a man in the gallery shouted:

"This woman is a Jew and a Communist unworthy of acting in the Argentine theatre."

Two tarbombs were thrown to the stage, staining the actress' dress. Police immediately arrested the man and another man who accompanied him.

Miss Vehil, who recently took a prominent part in demonstrations supporting the Democratic Union, interrupted the play to declare:

"I am not a Communist nor a Jew. I am a Catholic and was born in Uruguay, where I learned to love liberty."

The play proceeded without further interruption but as the audience emerged from the theatre a bomb was thrown into a hall.

Purge of Pro-Soviet Aides In Army Intelligence Must Be Done, Military Demands

Washington, March 16 (AP)—House Military Committee members threatened today to "name names" if the State Department refuses to dismiss intelligence employees whose loyalty the committee has questioned.

Irked by the State Department's denial that the committee has made "strong representations" against a number of employees, with alleged pro-Soviet leanings, committee members said privately they may recommend issuance of a formal and detailed report on their investigation.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) declined to comment on what course the committee might take but other members were less reticent.

One committee member took exception to the statement of Secretary of State Byrnes at his news conference yesterday that Chairman May (D-Ky.) had never made "representations" against departmental employees.

This congressman, who would not be quoted directly, insisted that the committee's counsel, H. Ralph Burton, had conferred with Byrnes and mentioned at least one name.

Inconclusive Meeting

"Mr. Burton spent about an hour with Mr. Byrnes and laid out the whole picture before him," this legislator maintained. "How many names he mentioned, I don't know because I wasn't there and there was no formal report. We were trying to prevent embarrassment in the State Department, but if they want us to be specific, we can be that way, too."

Another committee member said Burton's visit to Byrnes last October was preceded by a verbal report to President Truman by Chairman May himself. May, this

P.A.C. Seeks Candidates Favorable to Labor

Washington, March 16 (AP)—The C. I. O. Political Action Committee served notice today that it was returning to the political wars by launching a campaign to nominate and elect Congressional candidates favorable to labor issues.

And P. A. C. had authority from the C. I. O. Executive Board to register and seek voluntary contributions of at least $1 from each of the approximately 6,000,000 C. I. O. members for its expenses. A similar campaign among 5,000,000 C. I. O. workers in the 1944 elections brought less than $500,000.

A resolution adopted by the C. I. O. Executive Board late yesterday said P. A. C. is out to select "good candidates" in the primary and general elections throughout the nation.

Perfect Weather Awaits For St. Patrick's Parade

New York, March 16 (AP)—With bagpipes skirling and emerald green banners flying, the men— and women— from Cork, Kerry, Dublin and other parts of Ireland pay their annual tribute to St.

Patrick today in the traditional parade up Fifth avenue.

And for the first time since 1894, an Irish-born mayor—Shure—isn't William O'Dwyer, a fine brother of a bye from Ould County Mayo—will be in the reviewing stand as the expected 75,000 Sons of Erin and their gay collectives musical along to the lilting music of band and pipes.

The weatherman—who must be an O'Brien or a Murphy—has promised sunny skies for the wearing of the green.

The Labrador duck was first known to science in 1788, and the last reported member of its tribe was killed by a hunter in 1875.

Maroon Cagers Are Lauded By Officials at Assembly

Before a special student assembly Friday afternoon, members of the championship Kingston High School basketball team were awarded their letters and at the same time received the Senator Thomas C. Desmond trophy emblematic of their success as DUSO League champions for the 1945-46 season.

Following a program of music conducted by Leonard Stine, Tom McNeil, president of the athletic association, took the rostrum and presented a summary of the past season to the assembly. The first letter was presented by McNeil to Tony Albany, the No. 1 star of K.H.S. last year.

In turn, the A.A. presy awarded the block K's to Bob Murray, co-captain of the squad; Bob Gheer, Len Sicker, Bob Miller, George Glaser, Ed Weaver, and Phil Feeney, manager of the championship team. Gheer, Miller, Glaser and Weaver will return for the 1946-47 basketball campaign.

USE WIDE ANGLE: The average score of a woman bowler is 140, but this could be substantially increased with improved spare shooting.

The majority of women do not have sufficient strength in their hands or fingers to apply either spin, nor do they have the speed to control the ball from a "short" angle. They usually shoot a straight ball, therefore, it is best for accuracy that they use the widest angle possible for spares (see illustration).

But even in shooting the 7 and 10, the wider angled ball has coverage of ball plus no-width where, as shooting the No. 10 alone the right side allows only for a direct hit and left-side-of-the-pin margin. The gutter gobbles up a ball to the right side of the pin, and there is the big chance of error. "Go on an alley that 'runs' or 'breaks' quickly to the left."

When shooting the No. 10 from the left side, allow for a fade to the right (reverse) of two or more inches, and about the same amount of book left turn of ball on the No. 7 spare. But learn to use a wide angle—from the beginning.

U. S. Removed War Loot From Japan Pravda Writer Says

Moscow, March 16 (AP)—Pravda, in a dispatch from Vladivostok, said today that the United States was removing highly valuable property from Japan to the United States.
A special class correspondent said his story was based on reports in Japanese newspapers and in the Tokyo edition of Stars and Stripes.
The dispatch in the Communist party organ said the loot reportedly seized by the Americans included platinum, gold, silver, jewelry and other property from a German bank.

Pravda quoted Japanese newspapers as saying that on October 10, 1945, American military authorities took 650 pounds of platinum, some gold and upwards of 240 tons of silver from the Japanese military and naval ministries, States and Stripes of November 7, 1945, was quoted as reporting that American counter espionage police discovered and requisitioned a German warehouse in Tokyo where they appropriated jewelry and other property.
Pravda quoted the Nippon Times of February 8, 1946 as saying that patrols of the 24th Division had requisitioned 100 bars of silver of 75 pounds each.
(General MacArthur's Headquarters in Tokyo had reported these seizures at the time each was made. It said the Japanese and Germans illegally were holding the confiscated property and had violated all such assets be reported. There was no indication what disposition had been made of the confiscated property.)

Accuse Attlee of Hedging on India's Sovereignty Issue

New Delhi, March 16 (AP)—Mahomed Ali Jinnah, president of the Muslim League, today attacked Attlee's statement that India had the right to choose independence from the British Empire.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, former president of the All India Congress Party, greeted the Prime Minister's statement with reserve.

In Bombay, however, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, now president of the Congress Party, said he believed the spirit of Attlee's speech yesterday to the House of Commons "will generally be appreciated in the country." The Nationalist Free Press Journal of Bombay said in an editorial that the statement was an outstanding utterance.

Rank and file Nationalist Congress Party members and many of their leaders in Bombay hailed particularly Attlee's assertion that a minority should not be permitted to veto the progress of a majority. It was this portion to which Jinnah, leader of the Pakistan movement for a separate Muslim state, particularly objected.

"I regret," Jinnah said in a statement, "that Mr. Attlee, though in a guarded and qualified manner has done rope walking when he said 'on the other hand we cannot allow a minority to place a veto on the advance of a majority.' He has fallen into a trap of false propaganda which has been carried on for some time. There is no question of veto or holding up the progress or advance of the majority."

"It seems that he was speaking to a larger audience with many voices but so far as we are concerned, our position remains definite for a division of India and the establishment of Pakistan, and that Pakistan is the only solution to India's constitutional problem."

UNO Faces Severe Test in New York

Russia's Willingness to Work Within Rules Is Crux of Session

Washington, March 16 (AP)—A decisive test for Russia's willingness to work within UNO framework in the future shaped up today as Iran made known it will ask the Security Council to re-examine its trouble with Moscow.

American officials, who would not be quoted expressed themselves pleased that Iran had decided on such action, and left no doubt that the United States will give full support to such an appeal. Word of Iran's intention to lay its case again before the Security Council was received at the State Department from Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam, these officials said. This country reportedly was ready to invoke the guarantees of the United Nations Charter in an appeal.

Recent Russian moves have created in the highly strategic zone of the Middle East.

as some his speeches during Britain's dark days in 1941. However, he did not mention Stalin by name in his talk and referred to him collectively as "the renewed chief of 190 million Russians and many more outside Russia."

No Retractions
Standing pat by his Fulton speech—I do not wish to withdraw or modify a single word—Churchill did not back-propagate an Anglo-American military alliance but said he had asked for free voluntary fraternal association.

He continued: "The only quest or which a nation is open is whether the necessary harmony of thought and action between the American and British peoples will be reached in a sufficiently plain and clear manner and in good time to prevent a new world struggle or whether they will come about as has done before after the struggle is begun."

Russia Doesn't Want War
"I remain convinced that Russia does not want war," Churchill said. "I do not believe that Russia will go to war as the present time. I am sure that if we stand together calmly but resolutely in defense of our national interests or of any other nation's interests, we shall be able to prevent the outbreak of a new world war."

Churchill said that the people of the world.

Oil Collusion With Britain Moscow Charge Against Iran

London, March 16 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today that the Iranian government was 'defending the monopolistic possession of British oil concessions in Iran' by refusing to grant Russia similar concessions in the country's northern provinces.

The broadcast said the assertion was made by Alexeev, a writer for the government newspaper Izvestia.

It quoted Alexeev as saying that under the 1921 Soviet-Iranian Treaty Iran pledged not to transfer to any third power mining oil, railway or other concessions given up by Russia but he added that the treaty had been broken 'on numerous occasions' by the Iranian government.

Specifically, the writer said concessions were granted to Standard Oil and that southern Iranian concessions were granted to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

In a period of 20 years the Iranian government has tried to bring about conflict between the U.S.S.R. and other great powers.

Alexeev was quoted as saying "One must not forget all these facts which have such important significance for the development of Soviet-Iranian relations."

Oil Concessions

The writer said that the Soviet-Iranian Treaty of 1921, which barred

Ferdinands of Russia Parents for Sixth Time

Nuernberg, March 16 (AP)—Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia became a father for the sixth time today when a son was born to his wife the Grand Duchess Anna of the Russian House of Romanov. The baby, the Prince said, probably will be named Sigismund.

Louis Ferdinand and Kara were house guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt on their around-the-world honeymoon trip in 1938.

On their return to Germany they were the Roosevelt's thanks for their hospitality. This so incensed Hitler that he wanted the Prince arrested. Friends intervened pointing out that the young couple had sent messages not only to the Roosevelt's but also to the Japanese Premier who entertained them.
